THREE WITNESSES WHO SAW MURDER

Fifty Subpoenas Issued Following Conferences in District Attorney's Office

CHAUFFEUR OF "MURDER CAR"

Will Aid State in Any Way Possible. Few Details, However, Are Given Out—Police Lieutenant Appears.

New York, July 25.—William Shapiro, chauffeur of the car used by the murderers in the Rosenthal murder, and Louis Libby, part owner with Shapiro of the "murder car", were accepted as witnesses for the State late today and furnished what is believed to be important new information. Other valuable facts in connection with the Rosenthal killing were furnished by John J. Fickey, an eye-witness of the shooting.

While few details of what Shapiro and Libby told District Attorney Whitman during a long visit to his office were made public, it was admitted that they and particularly Shapiro, had given notable help to the State's case. Immediately after they had made their statements 50 subpoenas were issued for witnesses to appear at the grand jury investigation next week.

Hickey, the new witness, told the district attorney he stood within three feet of Rosenthal when the fatal shots were fired a week ago Monday night. According to Hickey, as Mr. Whitman outlined his story, four shots from as many different revolvers were fired at the gambler.

Hickey told also, it was given out, that Rosenthal, when he walked out of the Metropole Cafe, was accompanied by several friends. He had not been summoned, according to Hickey, and the party stopped at the newspaper counter, where Rosenthal bought seven or eight papers. These he distributed among the party. All were glancing over the news, just outside, when the shots were fired. According to the district attorney, Hickey said he might be able to identify two of the men who had revolvers.

"Shapiro will render any assistance he can in the matter," said Mr. Whitman tonight, referring to the chauffeur's statement. "There is absolutely no promise of immunity to him. He was, according to his statement, waiting about 15 minutes in front of the Metropole on the night of the homicide. He saw one man go away in his car with a gun in his hand. He cannot say whether the three men he took away are the same three men who came to the front of the cafe in the grey-colored car which he was driving. "I have absolutely punctured the alibis of "Bridgie" Webber and Harry Vallon and from statements made to me, which will be repeated in the coroner's court tomorrow, I will have punctured the alibis of the other men now under arrest."

Shapiro, it is understood, is to appear tomorrow as a witness for the State at the continued coroner's investigation and is ordered to be the "star" witness so far.

Police Lieut. Charles Becker, whom Rosenthal had accused of being his partner in the gambling business, was ready to appear as a voluntary witness before the grand jury today, but that body had adjourned before it was known he was to put in an appearance It is planned to call him Monday or Tuesday next.

PAT WOULDN'T REMOVE HAT

And That Caused Spat In New Orleans Court

New Orleans, July 25.—Because Patrick Looby, veteran secret service agent of the United States government, refused to apologize for remarks he made several days ago about United States Commissioner A. H. Browne, the latter this afternoon refused to permit Looby to testify in his court and adjourned indefinitely a hearing in a counterfeit case.

The breach between the two officials which threatens to obstruct temporarily the administration of justice is the result of Looby's failure several days ago to remove his hat when he appeared before the commissioner. Judge Browne at that time gave the secret service man a "call down" and the latter retorted that the commissioner displayed a lack of dignity by discarding his coat while on the bench.

Later Looby stated openly that he did not remove his hat on entering Judge Browne's court because he thought a poker game was in progress. This incensed the commissioner and he forthwith issued the edict that Looby could not testify in his court until he had apologized. The charge against Joseph Warner, which the commissioner refused to hear today, will be taken direct to the grand jury by the district attorney.

Chicago, July 25.—Appointment of a receiver for the Big Axe Pocahontas Coal Company, whose property is in Buchanan county, Va., and valued at $1,759,000, is asked in a bill filed today in the Circuit Court, by George J. M. Porter, a minority stockholder. In his bill Porter charged that C. A. Tuttle, the majority stockholder, is seeking to wreck the company.

MUST PRESERVE A QUORUM

Majority Leader Underwood Lays Law Down to Indifferent Congressmen—Members Early Tilt—The Session

Library of Congress

Washington, July 25.—Determined at all costs to maintain a quorum in the House, Majority Leader Underwood today served notice that he would block hereafter all attempts of members to be excused on account of private business.

His purpose was revealed when he objected to consent being given to Representative Switzer, of Ohio, Republican, to absent himself for ten days. He later withdrew his objection but gave warning that he would show no leniency in the future.

Mr. Underwood's objection to Mr. Switzer's request came as a complete surprise. The majority leader made his position clear, however.

"I give notice," he said, with emphasis, "that, so far as I am concerned, on account of the condition of business in the House and the necessity of a quorum being present I propose to object to any request for unanimous consent for leave of absence on account of business.

"If a man is sick or there is sickness in his family, that may be a legitimate excuse. But the important business for a man who holds a commission from a constituency to represent them on the floor of this House is for him to attend here and to be present at this time."

A general call for such members as are absent in their home districts, either attending to their political fences or upon personal business, has been sent out. It is believed that within the next few days sufficient of the absentees will have returned to restore a working attendance.

Bitter Exchange of Words

Washington, July 25.—Renewal of the bitter interchanges between Representatives Rainey, of Illinois, and Austin, of Tennessee, over the question of water power sites legislation, harked the adoption by the House today of the conference report on a bill granting the Dixie Power Company the right to construct a dam across the White river in Arkansas. Mr. Rainey's objection some days ago resulted in three of Mr. Austin's bills stricken from the calendar.

Mr. Rainey today declared he was not opposed to the adoption of the conference report but he protested against such general legislation which, he said, "was sought by those seeking to grab valuable property from the government." Mr. Austin referred to Mr. Rainey as a "theorist and dreamer," and as standing in the way of progress "until he could make up his private mind" as to what the government policy should be. He arraigned Mr. Rainey for having insinuated that he, together with Representatives Shackleford, of Missouri; Padgett, of Tennessee, and Pepper, of Iowa, were the creatures of the "water power trust."

"Will the gentleman yield to me?" inquired Mr. Rainey, rising.

"No," snapped Mr. Austin. "No man who, on the floor of this House, accuses me of fathering a steal can have any of my time."

Mr. Austin declared that the grant to private interests of water power sites was the most advanced conservation of natural resources. Development of water power, he asserted, would save hundreds of millions of tons of coal annually and break the grip of the "coal trust."

STORM IN SAVANNAH.

Several Places Struck by Lightning—Street Car Service Affected.

Savannah, Ga., July 25.—Savannah is still suffering great inconvenience as a result of the severe electrical storm that struck it yesterday afternoon. It was hoped that there would be no trouble this morning, but this proved to be a vain hope. Repairs are being made to the places struck by lightning yesterday, which included the Odd Fellows' hall, where the flagpole was destroyed.

The Cathedral of St. John the Baptist, which had one of its towers slightly damaged, the residence of Isadore Gottlieb, which was struck by lightning and set on fire, and one of the retorts of the Savannah Gas Company, which was fired by a stroke of lightning.

The Southern Bell Telephone Company has an extra force of men at work putting telephones in condition. There were probably a hundred or more telephones put out of commission by the electrical disturbance.

The street car service today is very inadequate. Only half a service is being given, because of the damage at the power house. Many persons walked to work this morning because on some lines the cars were 30 minutes apart. People who lived at Thunderbolt and other resorts within a radius of 10 miles of the city were in many instances forced to walk in.

AVIATOR'S MISHAP

Flight for Fayetteville by Thornwell Andrews—Machine Fell

Fayetteville, N. C., July 25.—Aviator Thornwell Andrews, of the Curtis Exhibition Company, took a flight in his airship from the Fair Grounds yesterday afternoon in the presence of a great crowd.

He flew away nicely, but had not gone more than one-half of a mile when his ship, from some unknown cause, came to the earth in a corn field near Holt-Morgan mill.

Andrews was unhurt, but his machine was broken in one or two places. On account of the accident, he was unable to make a second flight today.

COMPROMISE BILL ON WOOL TARIFF

Measure Passed Senate by Vote of 34 to 32 Last Night

SUBSTITUTE FOR HOUSE BILL

Measure Passes Against United Opposition of Democrats—Material Reductions In Existing Schedules

Washington, July 25.—Ten Progressive Republicans overthrew the regular Republicans in the Senate late tonight and joined with the Democrats in passing the LaFollette Woolen Tariff Revision Bill as a substitute for the Democratic measure framed by the House of Representatives. The LaFollette bill was adopted by a vote of 39 to 27, less than two hours after the Republican leaders had achieved what they believed was a victory when a compromise submitted by Senator Penrose was passed in the committee of the whole.

The sudden termination of the wool tariff fight came as the climax of a day full of surprising events. The Democratic House bill for a revision of the wool tariff was technically before the Senate. The Progressives first voted for Senator Cummins' substitute, the rates of which were slightly above those of the Democratic bill. They were here defeated 57 to 14. Then Senator Penrose came forward with a compromise measure considerably higher than the Democratic bill but which regular and progressive Republicans believe they could agree upon.

Led by the defeated Senator Cummins, who said he would accept the Penrose bill, as a "step in the right direction," all but three of the progressives rallied to the support of the Penrose measure, and it was adopted by the narrow margin of 34 to 32. This took place in what was known as the Committee of the Whole. The amendment then passed in the Senate proper. In the meantime Senator LaFollette, who with Senators Clapp and Kenyon, had joined the Democrats in voting against the Penrose substitute, saw an opportunity to again pass his bill of 1911 which President Taft vetoed. There was a quick rally of progressive forces and the LaFollette bill was introduced as a substitute for the already amended bill. It became the substitute for the Democratic House Bill and as such the Senate finally passed it 47 to 20.

The progressives who joined with the Democrats in adopting the LaFollette substitute were Borah, Bristow, Clapp, Crawford, Cummins, Gronna, Kenyon, LaFollette, Poindexter and Works. The amended bill goes back to the House of Representatives and the resulting tariff situation is exactly that which followed the adoption of a woolen tariff in the special session of 1911. The LaFollette bill is the same as passed then by the Senate with a raw wool duty of 30 per cent and an average duty of 55 per cent on manufactured goods. The House bill is the same as then passed by the House with the raw wool duty of 20 per cent. Out of these two measures the conference committee last year evolved a compromise which President Taft vetoed, because the Tariff Board had not completed its woolen investigation. A conference committee will again take up the two bills and attempt to frame a substitute to send to the President.

Washington, July 25.—The Senate in the Committee of the Whole late tonight adopted by a vote of 34 to 32 a Republican substitute for the Democratic Woolen Tariff Bill against the united opposition of Democratic members. The measure would make material reductions in the existing woolen tariff.

The bill was presented in committee, after Senator Cummins' substitute bill had been defeated 57 to 14. It was brought up by Senator Penrose who said it represented the views of the majority of the Republicans. As soon as it had been adopted the bill passed technically into the Senate where Senator Cummins secured the adoption of an amendment for the creation of a permanent tariff commission.

Senator LaFollette then introduced as a further amendment the Woolen Tariff Bill which he attempted to have passed in 1911 and the Senate began another fight upon the woolen schedule. Senator LaFollette claimed to have the support of many Democrats and the Insurgent Republicans for his bill which threatened to displace the successful Republican substitute.

The Republican substitute was submitted after the Senate had been in session nearly seven hours. Senator Penrose explained it, a comparison of duties was given by Senator Smoot, and with debate of less than three hours the new measure was adopted in place of the Democratic House Bill.

Republican Senators voting against the bill were Clapp, Kenyon and LaFollette.

Democrats charged that the Republican leaders have been forced to bring forward their wool revision bill in order to prevent the adoption of the Democratic bill with its sweeping re-

BEVERIDGE WILL PRESIDE

Former U. S. Senator From Indiana Will Hold Reins at Roosevelt Convention—Dixon Speaks Of the Plans—Notes

Chicago, July 25.—Announcement of the selection of Albert J. Beveridge, former United States Senator from Indiana, as temporary chairman of the National Progressive Convention to be held in Chicago August 5th, was the chief development in political circles here today. The announcement was made by United States Senator Joseph M. Dixon, of Montana, director of Colonel Roosevelt's campaign for the Progressive Presidential nomination.

At the same time a letter from Mr. Beveridge to William Holton Bye, of Indianapolis, was made public. This letter sets forth Mr. Beveridge's attitude in the present political crisis and marks his withdrawal from the Republican party in which he has taken a prominent part. The letter has been utilized by leaders in the third party as a bill of progressive principles and will be given wide distribution.

In his letter Mr. Beveridge finds fault with both old parties and urges all progressives, irrespective of party, to rally to the Roosevelt third party movement.

Senator Dixon tonight said that the committee in charge of the convention arrangements had received more than 1,000 applications from States other than Illinois seats. He also said that many of the delegations would be accompanied by a large number of progressives who desire to be present at the first convention of the new party.

"Telegrams have been received from progressive leaders in California, Idaho, Colorado, Alabama, Tennessee, New York, Minnesota, Virginia and Washington, asking that headquarters be established for delegates and guests," said Senator Dixon.

According to tentative plans the provisional committee in charge of the convention will make up the temporary roll of the convention and hear any contests which may arise.

THE TURKISH CHAMBER

Military Officers Lodge Demand For Its Early Dissolution

Constantinople, July 25.—The president of the Chamber of Deputies announced in the chamber this afternoon that a group of Turkish military officers had lodged a demand for the dissolution of the chamber.

This announcement provoked uproarious scenes. The demand reached the president in the form of a letter bearing the seal of the military league and was couched in vigorous language.

"Your evil labors in committee and parliament," the letter read, "have done much harm. We do not wish to stain our hands in your soiled blood but we warn you that the army and the people demand dissolution of the chamber. Failing compliance with this demand within 48 hours, we will do what is needed."

Violent speeches were made by several deputies who declared that they would not move except at the point of bayonet.

The expiration of the 48 hours grace is awaited with the greatest anxiety.

Meanwhile, the leaders of the committee of union and progress are taking energetic steps to organize the full strength of their adherents in the army in readiness for a counter revolution.

New York, July 25.—The United States battleship New York, now building at the Brooklyn navy yard, will be launched October 30th, according to announcement made here by navy yard authorities today. The New York is a sister ship to the dreadnaught Texas, recently launched from a private shipyard. The two vessels will be the largest fighting ships of the American navy.

ARKANSAS NEGRO MET INEVITABLE

Shot to Death After an Attempted Assault Upon Young Woman

BELIEVED TO HAVE RECORD

Lawyer and Thought to be Responsible for Attacking Numerous White Women During Past Six Months.

Little Rock, Ark., July 25.—After he had shot a young woman here today, J. B. Brown, a negro lawyer, was killed as he sought refuge in the home of another negro. The young woman was Miss Maude Sumner. Brown got into her home and when he attempted to assault her, she resisted. Then the negro began firing. Miss Sumner was slightly hurt.

Little Rock officials believe Brown was the black man who attacked numerous women here during the last six months. Brown's slayer was Sam Collins. He shot when Brown tried to climb into a rear window.

TRACTION MAGNATE ARRESTED

Macon, Ga., Man Taken Off Train at Spartanburg, S. C.

Spartanburg, S. C., July 25.—W. J. Massee, of Macon, Ga., president of the Georgia Public Service Corporation, and the head of many large corporations in that State, was arrested here today as he was passing through the city on the Southern Railway from New York to his home in Macon, on a warrant charging him with being a fugitive from justice on the representation of L. K. Koch, a deputy sheriff of Tennessee.

Koch's charge is that Massee is accused in Columbia, Tenn., of making threats against Robert Williams, of that city, in order to induce Williams to drop a civil suit instituted against Massee in the Federal Court for defamation of character.

Massee was arrested by Sheriff White, who had in his possession at the time the arrest was made a telegram from Governor Cole L. Blease directing him to turn Massee over to the Tennessee authorities and informing him that he had granted the extradition papers in the case to Harry S. Stokes, special assistant attorney general of Tennessee.

Massee employed counsel and went before Judge Sease, in the Circuit Court, in an effort to obtain his release on a writ of habeas corpus. His motion was opposed by counsel employed by Deputy Sheriff Koch. Judge Sease held that since the Governor had granted the requisition he could not release him but would hold him until the case could be presented to the Governor by Massee's attorneys. His bond was fixed at $10,000 which was arranged through a local banking institution.

Massee in a statement made today, says his requisition had been denied by both Governor Brown and Governor Smith, of Georgia.

F. T. GATES PURCHASER

Representative and Adviser of Rockefeller, Buys Gore Lands

Charlotte, N. C., July 25.—According to the Chronicle this afternoon the purchaser of the Gore tract of 27,000 acres of land in Richmond and Scotland counties, the sale of which was recently announced, was Mr. Frederick T. Gates, chairman of the General Educational Board and representative and adviser of John D. Rockefeller in phalinanthropic matters and business enterprises. Mr. Gates' name was not used in the deal at the time and this is the first publication of the fact that he was the purchaser. It is understood that Mr. Gates made the purchase for himself and that Mr. Rockefeller is not interested.

Mr. Gates visited North Carolina recently for the purpose of looking over the tract. He was met at Aberdeen by Mr. H. A. Page, Jr., through whom the deal was made, and was taken on a rather hasty and casual automobile trip over the tract. Upon its conclusion Mr. Gates, without any preliminaries, said: "I'll take it, and pay you cash when the papers are ready."

The "cash" was approximately a quarter of a million dollars and Mr. Gates was as good as his word. He stated after the deal was made that he would not take $20 an acre for his purchase, the purchase price being slightly less than half that figure.

Mr. Gates will set aside a considerable portion of his purchase for a colonization project, but much of it will be cleared and planted in peaches, pears, grapes and other fruits that excel in the sandhill section and in berries, truck and the staple crops, such as cotton, corn, grain and hay.

Kansas City, Mo., July 25.—Ten balloons will ascend from the aviation grounds overlooking the Missouri river here next Saturday afternoon at the start of the National elimination race for the honor of representing the United States in the James Gorden Bennett trophy race in Germany this Fall. In the number of bags flying the race will be the greatest ever held in America.

NORTH CAROLINA PRESS

James H. Caine Elected President—To Meet at Both Asheville and Salisbury Next Year—Revenue Cutter Trip.

Atlantic Hotel, Morehead City, July 25.—H. B. Varner, for the committee on resolutions, made his report when the meeting of the Press Association was called to order this morning.

This was followed by a talk by Dr. I. M. Hardy, superintendent of the Institution for Feeble Minded, now being built at Kinston. He explained what is being done in the way of construction. He hopes, too, that National legislation will give the institution $250,000 so as to get the work efficiently under way.

Secretary Warburton, of the Salisbury Chamber of Commerce, gave the association an invitation to hold the next meeting in Salisbury. Mr. James H. Caine presented an invitation in behalf of Asheville. The association decided to hold two meetings and accepted both invitations.

The business meeting will be held in Salisbury, in December, and the Summer meeting in Asheville. This meeting will be the pleasure and vacation time for editors and their wives. The date for both meetings was left with the executive committee.

DePriest; orator, J. J. Farriss; poet, H. A. Banks. The executive committee is composed of the following: the president and secretary, ex officio; H. A. London, R. R. Clark, H. B. Varner, R. M. Phillips, D. T. Edwards.

Mr. Caine was escorted to the chair and the meeting was turned over to him.

M. L. Shipman read before the body a paper on "Journalistic Ethics." read before the South Carolina Association by W. E. Gonzales. The suggestions in it were referred to the legislative committee to report at the December meeting.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Daniels that the association endorse the building of public roads by convicts and other good road workmen, and was adopted.

IN LEAGUE WITH GAMBLERS.

Montgomery Police and Sheriff May be Investigated by Grand Jury.

Montgomery, Ala., July 25.—Reports that members of the police department and of the sheriff's force were in league with gambling shops of Montgomery caused Judge Armstead Brown of the city court to instruct the grand jury yesterday afternoon to make a rigid investigation of the sheriff's department, and, if the alleged conditions were found to be in existence, he stated impeachment proceedings would be instituted against Sheriff Horace Hood. The sheriff instantly invited an investigation. He has given out no statement, but he says that he expects a full vindication of his department by the grand jury.

Agitation against gambling dens in Montgomery originated Saturday night when a person called Governor O'Neal by telephone at the executive mansion, declaring that three gambling houses were running wide open down town under the noses of the authorities. The informant refused to give his name. The Governor at once ordered the sheriff and the police department to raid every gambling den. All of the shops have now been closed.

Upon the heels of several fruitless raids it was reported that members of the police department might have been tipping off the gamblers to the raids and the city commissioner started an investigation. Judge Brown's instructions for an investigation of the sheriff's department are the result of an interview given out by Police Commissioner C. P. McIntyre, expressing the belief that conditions similar to those with the police department prevailed among the sheriff's forces.

It has been reported that the city commissioner has been considering the removal of Police Chief W. H. Taylor, but so far there is nothing official on the subject.

TIGER CAMPAIGN IN WILMINGTON

Grand Jury Returns Many Indictments for Violating Prohibition Law

NOLO CONTENDERE CASES UP

Defect Found in Bonds Under Which Defendants Were Required to Appear From Court to Court.—Other Notes.

Expectations of forthcoming sensations which have been rife since the State Superior Court convened in Wilmington Monday morning with Judge Frank Carter, of Asheville, presiding, were fulfilled yesterday when a total of about 90 capiases were issued charging violations of the prohibition law, 60 or more of them being against those who entered pleas of nolo contendere to similar charges at the January term of court and upon whom prayer for judgment was continued upon the defendants furnishing bond to report at each term of court for 12 months and show that they had not engaged in the whiskey business since. Among those arrested on indictments was a member of the present grand jury.

The remainder of the capiases were issued upon bills of indictment returned by the grand jury, for the most part against men who have not heretofore been indicted under a similar charge. Up to a late hour last night 24 of the nolo contendere defendants had been re-arrested and three of the newly indicted defendants had been taken into custody. Despite the vigilant efforts of half a dozen or more deputy sheriffs not one of the others could be found. There seems to have been a general exodus from the city of many of the owners or operators of the so-called "blind tigers", as well as many members and habitues of "social clubs," several of which were raided by the police last Sunday morning, when a number of arrests were made on charges of gambling. Since court has convened this term Wilmington has been a quieter city at night than for many months, drunkenness and disorder being conspicuous by their absence.

All but one of the nolo contendere defendants furnished bond, in most cases $1,000 justified, for their appearance in court tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, at which time the nolo contendere cases will be called.

Two newly indicted defendants failed to raise the $1,000 bond each, required and went to jail.

In explaining his action in regard to the nolo contendere cases, Judge Carter stated yesterday afternoon that an examination of the bonds upon which the men were released upon condition that they show at each term of court that they have not been engaged in selling whiskey, were improperly drawn. He said that the bonds seemed to make no other provision than that the defendants show by their own affidavits that they had not violated the law or their agreement, and that there was some question as to whether the defendants could be brought into open court or not. Judge Carter said that he desired the men brought into court to report personally, so that a full investigation could be made.

It is said that the solicitor has additional evidence against some of the nolo contendere defendants, while against a number of others there is no evidence that they have violated the law or the terms of their agreement. The capiases for the nolo contendere defendants were issued about 11 o'clock yesterday morning and all during the afternoon and evening the Sheriff's deputies were busy bringing into court those that they could locate. A number could not be found and are said to be out of the city. If they do not answer when their cases are called tomorrow morning the bonds upon which they are released will be forfeited and it is understood that if they are afterwards apprehended the matter will not be dropped on the forfeiture of the bonds. The bonds range from $100 to $300.

The first batch of indictments charging violation of the prohibition law, returned by the grand jury Wednesday afternoon, were for the following: Fox Riley, two cases; Ira Scott, John Wyatt, Tom Croom, two cases; John Harris, two cases; Rob Davis, J. M. Anderson, James Holton and Tom Shepard. Of these, only one, Tom Croom, could be located. He was arrested yesterday morning about 10 o'clock and in default of the $500 bond required in each case, went to jail.

Later in the day a second batch of indictments were returned charging violations of the prohibition law. Capiases were immediately issued for the following: L. Todd, J. B. Elkins, Ira J. Scott, Jas. Chapman, Ike Burriss, Nick Mitchell, two cases, Jno. Poope, James Holton, Frank Nasworthy, J. O. Grimes, J. R. Kennedy, Dan Ruark, two cases; Neil Gallagher, two cases; Rufus Futch, John Doe, alias "Lip" D. E. Costin, A. B. Stokley, W. B. Crumpler, three cases; J. C. Vereen, Chas, Rogers, two cases; John Wyatt and Sam Robinson.

CLUBS TO MOVE OUT.

Charlotte Organizations Said to be Buying in County.

Charlotte, N. C., July 24.—Social clubs having to all intents and purposes been abolished in Charlotte by the recent enactment of the board of aldermen requiring a bona fide bond of $5,000 from each club as a guarantee that the State law would not be broken, the possibility of a suburb located just beyond the city limits and devoted to the operation of these clubs is being discussed. Social clubs of the character regulated by the city ordinance are permissible under State law, and may be established anywhere they like, subject always to regulation and taxation by municipal government.

For three weeks since the ordinance affecting social clubs went into effect Charlotte has been positively and for the first time, dry. Only two of the social clubs that flourished prior to July 1st, survive. If the smaller social clubs could hit on a scheme of operation without the prohibitive bond attached, there is no doubt they would do a great business.

It is reported that club interests have secured an option on a $6,000 tract near Lakewood Park beyond the corporate limits, but conveniently located on both the car line and the Interurban Railway. It is said that one or more clubs are contemplating opening on this ground within the very near future. If this venture is successful there is no doubt that Charlotte will soon be fringed with similar institutions on the outskirts of the city limits.

TO WELCOME ATHLETES.

New York Preparing Elaborate Celebration—Mayor Gaynor to Help.

New York, July 25.—Mayor Gaynor told a committee which called on him at the city hall today that he would personally co-operate in extending a public reception to the returning American athletes from the Olympic games at Stockholm, and review the monster parade to be given in their honor two weeks hence.

F. W. Rubien, who headed the committee, informed the mayor that the parade in honor of the victorious American team would be the largest ever given for a like purpose and that one of the most striking features would be the presence of thousands of small boys, shoulder to shoulder, on both sides of the line of march, each waving an American flag.

DANVILLE WANTS RATES.

Complaint Filed With Inter-State Commerce Commission at Washington.

Washington, July 25.—Danville, Va., today began before the Inter-State Commerce Commission an attack upon all classes of commodity freight rates to and from that city. Existing rates from all points in the country were declared to be preferential to Richmond and Lynchburg, Va., as compared with the rate to Danville and discriminatory against Danville.

JACK JOHNSON AGAIN

Negro Pugilist Trying to Arrange for Another Bout

New Yark, July 25.—Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight champion, announced over the long distance telephone from Chicago tonight, that he was ready to sign for a match with Joe Jeannette, on Labor Day, at Madison Square Garden, in New York, if he could get his price. The latter, Johnson dictated, was $30,000. The champion refused a $20,000 offer.

Johnson's statement was made to Billy Gibson, manager of the Garden Athletic Club, who is trying to get the big negro here as a Labor Day attraction.

WALTER SCOTT AGAIN.

Added Another Victory to His Grand Circuit String.

Detroit, Mich., July 25.—Walter Cox, with three victories already to his credit since the Grand Circuit meet started, piloted two more winners today, placing him far in the lead among successful drivers. With Mansfield he captured the 2:12 pace in four heats and his skilful teaming landed Esther W. in front after five stirring heats in the 2:12 trot.

The best time of the year was hung up in the free-for-all pace, when Independence Boy did the first heat in 2:02 1-4. Seven horses with an average record of 2:02 1-4 started in this event, but only three finished inside the money. Sir R., and Hal B., Ja., caught the flag in the first heat, Vernon McKinney in the second and Ross K., in the third.

MOTORBOAT FAR OUT TO SEA.

Steamer Captain Reports Passing Craft With Four Passengers.

Philadelphia, July 24.—A small motorboat, containing four persons and headed toward Europe, was sighted far out on the Atlantic ocean by the captain and passengers of the steamship Pretoria, which arrived here today from Hamburg.

Capt. Mass at first thought the boat might contain survivors from a shipwrecked vessel, but, as no signals were displayed, proceeded without asking the boat's destination.

The little craft, which shipping men say may be the motorboat Detroit, bound from New York to Queenstown, was seen from the deck of the Pretoria on July 20th.

On the previous day two immense icebergs, one 130 feet high, with a base about 1,200 feet in diameter, the other more than 100 feet high, were sighted.

DUNN NEWS NOTES

Body Found on Railroad Track—Sewerage Question—Falcon Meeting

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Dunn, N. C., July 25.—On last Sunday morning the body of Joe Griffith, a young farmer living near town, was found between the rails on the track of the A. C. L. Railroad with the head and one foot severed from the body. The body was lying across the track and it was thought by some that he had possibly been murdered and the body placed on the track to hide the crime. It is thought by the public generally that Griffin was under the influence of whiskey and was run over while on his way home, by one of the many fast night trains.

Circulars are being posted announcing the Falcon camp meeting for the year 1912, from August 15th to the 25th. This annual camp meeting creates a great deal of interest in this part of the State, and draws very large crowds. The programme for this year promises to be very interesting as there will be several prominent preachers; among the number being Rev. Joseph King, returning from an extended tour around the world, and Rev. Geo. E. Fisher, of Toronto, Canada, together with Rev. L. C. Hall and wife, of Houston, Texas. Falcon is near Godwin station on the A. C. L.

The citizens of the town will meet in the opera house tomorrow night in a mass meeting to discuss and hear speeches on the propoued bond issue for a sewerage system. Gilbert C. White, C. E., has been invited to discuss the question and to answer inquiries as to cost and plans. The citizenship is wrought up over the issuing of bonds as the town has just completed a fine market and opera house. Some of the best citizens of the town are very much in favor of the bond issue and indications point to a nice majority for the sewerage system for the town.

Mr. J. C. Clifford has the plans and specifications for an addition to his home that will make it one of the nicest residences in town. Work will begin in a few days.

Mr. R. L. Godwin returned last night from a trip through the western part of the State in his White touring car. He ran from Greensboro to Dunn without stopping his engine; except for dinner at Durham.

ROCKY MOUNT NOTES.

Building and Loan Organized—Coast Line Agricultural Train.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., July 25.—At a special meeting of the directors of the newly organized building and loan association for Rocky Mount Saturday night, it was decided to name the new association "The New Home Building & Loan Association." At a meeting of the stockholders to be held some time in the near future, more directors will be elected, 11 having been elected last week. The number of shares already subscribed is now said to be more than 1,500, and the stockholders are confident that they will be able to pass the 2,000 mark before August 1st. The first series will be opened at that time. The directors will hold a meeting some time during the next few days at which time the officers will be elected and preparations made for the opening of the first series.

The agricultural train now being operated through this section of the State by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad was here Wednesday, and was visited by many hundreds of people. The train consists of five cars of live stock and exhibits, some of the most recently invented farming implements. The Coast Line is furnishing the train and operating it over its lines free of charge. Among the live stock are some of the most beautiful horses ever seen in this section. One, a stallion, weighing 1,600 pounds, is the most beautiful piece of horseflesh carried in the train, and attracts the attention of all the visitors to the train. Seven head of cattle are in the train, and one of these gives an average of seven gallons of milk a day. In another car is shown all the latest improvements in farming implements, and it is this part of the train that is of especial interest to the farmers. The train is operated under the auspices of the A. & M. College and the United States Department of Agriculture, and is proving an education to those people who take the time to drop into the cars and see the exhibits.

HUNTING AND FISHING

Wealthy Michigan Lumberman Establishes Preserve in Mountains

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., July 25.—Near the summit of Hooper's "bald" in Graham county, a few miles from the Tennessee line, and over 5,000 feet above the sea level, almost as high as Mt. Mitchell, the highest point east of the Rocky Mountains, George Moore, a wealthy Michigan lumberman and timber owner, has erected a large hunting lodge, a log bungalow, in the midst of thousands of acres of some of the wildest country in the United States, which he is converting into a hunting and fishing preserve. The lodge is near the headwaters of Snowbird, Buffalo, and Santeetlee, all good-sized streams and famed for their fishing, each abounding in speckled trout, and these with their tributaries, are included in Mr. Moore's boundary, or a great part of them.

The owner of this vast tract has already spent a great deal of money in stocking his preserve with the larger kinds of game. He has proceeded somewhat along the European lines and the plans adopted by those few in the United States who have established such preserves. He is really a pioneer in this part of the country for with the exception of the Vanderbilt estate there are no hunting preserves worthy of the name in the western part of the State. And his efforts in this direction are worthy of mention in that his example is sure to be followed in the future, as soon as those who have the means recognize the advantages that Western North Carolina have to offer in this respect.

Mr. Moore has about a dozen buffalo on this preserve, which in itslef shows that he is in earnest, since these animals are nearly extinct and the herd must have cost him a pretty penny. He has about the same number of elk, which are rapidly following the steps of the buffalo toward extinction. The wild boar of Germany is another animal with which he is experimenting. He has also imported a number of brown bear from the Appennines of Europe, and there are several pairs of the mule deer of the Southwest. All of these animals have been on the preserve long enough to demonstrate the fact that it is practicable to propagate them in this part of the world. They are healthy and seem to be contented. A large part of the boundary is enclosed with a strong, high wire fence, and in this is kept the wild boar and the brown bear, which are dangerous. The buffalo and the elk are allowed the freedom of the range. All of them are fed in the Winter time.

There is little likelihood that the large game might be shot by local hunters, since the preserve is miles from any settlement. But the owner does not trust to luck in this respect and maintains a force of six men to patrol and manage the work. It is one man's duty to make one trip around the wire fence every day. The bears sometime give trouble by climbing over the fence. One did so not long ago and killed a dozen or more chickens before he was returned to the enclosure. This was done only after the men had turned out the pack of wolf hounds, which brought him to bay and permitted the men to lasso him.

The only kind of game that is now being killed is the wild cat. This animal is said to be one of the most destructive in the woods. Mr. Moore has turned loose a large number of turkeys to run wild in the mountains, and they are a prey to the wild cats. Traps are set for them and they are killed in any way possible. A large number of pheasants of different species have also been liberated on the boundary.

While little has been said of fishing, this is one of the most attractive features of the preserves. The streams were originally stocked with the native speckled trout and others have been added from time to time. This is in contrast with the stocking of most of the Western North Carolina streams, which has been done with rainbow trout, or lake trout.

ASSEMBLY AT MONTREAT

Dr. White of Raleigh, Delivers Most Inspiring Address

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Montreat, N. C., July 25.—An address that is regarded as one of the most forceful and one of the most timely of the addresses heard at the Summer Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church, was delivered this evening by Rev. McC. White, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Raleigh. The subject of Dr. White's address was "The Country Church; Its Vital Relation to the Whole Church," and it constituted a prominent factor in the programme of the conference in the interest of the country church—its problems and work—which is claiming the attention of the assembly this week.

Dr. White is pastor of a city church, but has made a careful study of the duty of the city church to the country church, as well. He began his address with a strong argument in favor of the statement "as goes the country church, so goes the church" as a whole. In support of this argument he showed that the denomination is going to accomplish great things for the future; and that the denomination that neglects the country church will soon reach tne time when it will have no strong city church to claim as its stronghold.

"What has made Charlotte the stronghold for Presbyterianism that it is?" he asked. Answering the question he said that it was due to the fact that so many strong Presbyterian churches are to be found in Mecklenburg county. This fact, he said, made it possible for Charlotte to possess eight or more healthy, growing Presbyterian churches, with a membership of five or six thousand.

He spoke next of the two strong Presbyterian churches in Wilmington—the First Church and St. Andrew's church, both of which are so well-known on account of the large amounts which their congregations contribute annually to missions and for the general missionary activity of the membership. Dr. White showed that these conditions were due to previous work done in the cultivation of country churches in the county of New Hanover.

Dr. White then called attention to Presbyterianism in Raleigh and Wake county, and in the thirty contiguous counties, which constitute Albemarle Presbytery. He showed that in this territory the Methodist and Baptist churches are much more numerous and much stronger than is true of the Presbyterian Church and he said this condition existed because of the large number of strong country churches which the Methodists and Baptists have established and maintained in this territory and which the Presbyterians have failed to do. He showed that in the thirty counties included in Albemarle Presbytery there are 130 Methodist churches, with a total membership of 12,100, while Presbyterians have only 34 churches, with a total membership of 1,078, and of this number the Presbyterians have only 400 members in the country. He showed also in this connection that in this territory the Methodists have 8,000 Sunday school scholars, while the Presbyterians have only 367, in country Sunday schools.

Speaking of Wake county especially, Dr. White showed that in that county there are 27 Baptist and 10 Methodist churches and only one Presbyterian church, that being in Raleigh. He emphasized again the point that the city churches of no denomination can grow without the support of the country churches and that city churches finally die of "dry rot" unless country churches are cultivated.

Dr. White paid high tribute to the Methodist and Baptist denominations for the work they are doing in the country. He said: "They have endured hardships and now they have entered into their reward, and we have no right to say anything. All honor to them, for they deserve it."

Tomorrow evening President D. H. Hill, of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, Raleigh, will be the principal speaker on the programme. His subject will be: "The preacher; A Civic Force in the Rural Community."

The increase in the number of visitors to Montreat this week has been so great that another large hotel has been opened, and the indication is that within the next ten days hotels, boarding houses, and private homes will be so filled with guests that entertainment will be at a premium. There are a large number of young people here and they are enjoying thoroughly the various delights of Montreat. A large party went to Mount Mitchell, 18 miles distant, today.

NO ONE STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

The celebrated Dr. Abernethy of London was firmly of the opinion that disorders of the stomach were the most prolific source of human ailments in general. A recent medical writer says: "every feeling, emotion and affection reports at the stomach (through the system of nerves) and the stomach is affected accordingly. It is the vital center of the body * * * * *." He continues, "so we may be said to live (through) the stomach." He goes on to show that the stomach is the vital center of the body. For weak stomachs and the consequent indigestion or dyspepsia, and the multitude of various diseases which result therefrom, no medicine can be better suited as a curative agent than

MRS. MURKEN.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

"Several months ago I suffered from a severe pain right under the breast-bone," writes Mrs. G. M. MURKEN, of Corona, Calif. "Had suffered from it, off and on, for several years. I also suffered from heart-burn, did not know what was the matter with me. I tried several medicines but they did me no good. Finally, I was told it was my liver. I did not dare to eat as it made me worse. Whenever I swallowed anything it seemed that I would faint—it hurt so. I grew very thin and weak from not eating. Was told to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took five bottles of it, and could feel myself getting better from the first dose. I could eat a little without pain and grew strong fast. To-day I am strong and well and can do a big day's work with ease. Can eat everything and have put on flesh wonderfully. I will say to all sufferers write to Dr. Pierce. He has my undying gratitude."

Of course, impeachment is all right, but if it were practiced more the recall would not be thought of.

Eastern North Carolina has a lot of manless land that offers fine opportunities for many a landless man.

Says the Jacksonville Times Union: "Chicago will permit its women to talk in church." All others will do so without permission.

Private use of public office is to get more than the salary out of the office by using it in promoting the officeholder's private business.

Senator Lorimer, it is said, seeks election to Congress as a vindication. Election by voters who can be bought would not be a vindication.

It is not at all surprising that men who do not make enough to support their families decently look upon prosperity as an altogether one-sided affair.

The times call for a revival of conscience as well as enforcement of the law. There is big work for the preachers, the Sunday Schools, the Sheriffs, and the police.

"President Taft is letting the rest of them do the talking," says an administration organ. The truth is ,there is nothing that he can say that will help his cause. He has a perfect right to keep mum in view of the fact that he might say something that will incriminate his administration.

A Texas preacher sent a campaign contribution of $50 to President Taft with the request that his name be kept secret for the reason that "things given in secret reach heaven." The contributor must have been a colored pastor who doesn't know that there is no buying of voters in heaven.

Cheer up! This country may be in pretty bad fix, but we are much better off than several portions of the world where cannibalism is still practiced by their blood thirsty inhabitants. We may not be giving each other the square deal but at the same time we can go to bed without fear of being eaten next day by our neighbors.

What is a Democrat? He is a voter who is not a Republican controlled by ideas of centralization and committed to the injustice of making a few rich by taxing the many. Well, he isn't a Populist who believes in a paternalistic government and is committed to the idea that the government, and not the individual, ought to do the business of the country. A Democrat is a man who believes in "equal rights for all" and special privileges for none," and who would not, under any circumstances, vote the Republican ticket, especially for the reason that Republicanism is pledged to the unjust and unconstitutional policy of taxing freemen for the benefit of certain favored classes. Democrats who have gone wrong can get right by voting right and keeping right in the fight for popular rights.

In the approaching Democratic primary in South Carolina more than 100,000 votes will be cast and the number may reach 110,000 or 115,000. If of these voters one out of four cares a dollar's worth about the election of a Democratic President in November, $25,000 will be raised for the Democratic campaign fund. If each Democratic voter cares 25 cents worth, $25,000 or more will be raised. What sort of a Democrat is he who would not work one day in four years to elect a Democratic President? What sort of Democrat is he who will not give one day's wages in four years to the election of a Democratic President?—Columbia State.

COTTONSEED EXPOSITION

The Manufacturers' Record is favorably impressed with the idea of holding a Cottonseed Exposition, a suggestion which recalls what a tremendous industry has come from a once useless and neglected cotton product. Utilization of cottonseed is of comparatively late origin, yet today the crude products of cottonseed are worth annually $150,000,000 compared with a value of $7,000,000 in 1880.

Prior to 1880, the industry was not of much consequence, and it was not long before that when cottonseed were hauled away from the gins on big plantations and dumped into a heap or streams to rot and go to waste. Many men not so very old remember when anybody could have the seed by hauling them away and saving the ginners the expense of getting rid of them. What a marvelous change from being regarded as worthless to this time when the seed of our great Southern crop is now the basis of one of the greatest of Southern industries.

The cottonseed oil industry and collateral industries, not only have caused the erection of great manufacturing establishments worth millions of dollars, but the industry gives employment to thousands of men. It has become a Southern resource worth $150,000,000, and as a result of it large oil refineries have been erected in the North, in the South, in Canada and in Europe. The South's cotton keeps the spindles of the world busy, and hundreds of industries in two continents are dependent on its seed for a raw material that probably supplies more uses and fills more demands than any other product in the known world.

Previous to the civil war some of the States had to pass laws prohibiting the dumping of cottonseed into the streams. What a prodigal waste that was, simply the result of ignorance as latter days have shown. Probably we are just as ignorant of other resources that lies around us unnoticed or neglected. Indeed, we have no doubt of it. Be that as it may, so remarkable has been the growth of the cottonseed industry at this date that Dallas has come forward with a plan to hold an international cottonseed products exposition.

The Manufacturers' Record, in reverting to the growth of the industry, gives a list of fifty necessary and valuable articles manufactured from cottonseed. First and foremost is the vegetable oil, after which come numerous bi-products of great value. From the linters are derived batting, wadding, stuffing for pads, cushions, comforts, horse collars and upholstery, absorbent cotton, mixing for shoddy, for wool in hat-making and for lambs' wool in fleece-lined underwear, felt, low-grade yarns used in making lamp and candle wicks, twine, rope and carpets and cellulose used in making artificial silk and writinig paper and as a basis for explosives.

The hulls are used in feed, fertilizers, paper stock and in stuffing. The cake and meal figure in fertilizers, in dye stuffs, in feed for cattle, poultry, horses and swine, in confectionery and flour. The oil appears in lard compounds, white cottolene, butter oil, cooking oil, salad oil, olive oil and oleomargarine, in packing for olives and sardines, in medicinal emulsion, in cosmetics, in miners' oil, in lubricating oil, in paints, in mixing for putty and in automobiles tires, and as stock for soap, washing powders, glycerine, candles, olein and roofing tar.

The extent of the cottonseed industry can be conceived when the proposition is made to have a big exposition devoted exclusively to its products. It would, of course, be a big affair and would at once attract the attention of manufacturers of oil mill machinery, cotton ginnig machinery, cottonseed cleaning machinery, engines, transmission devices, conveying and elevating machinery, belting, etc. However, the exposition of the products would be the greatest show of all, and it would attract attention all over the world.

Why not combine in a great Southern exposition of cotton, cottonseed products, and all things that go into this great Southern industry, and after assembling it at Dallas remove it to the Panama canal exposition to be held at San Francisco in 1915.

FREE SUGAR AGAIN.

Washington dispatches yesterday tell us that tariff legislation is giving both Republican and Democratic statesmen no end of trouble. However, back here in the woods and political fields many a would-be statesman is "fearing around" telling all about it, as if the tariff were as easy a problem as adding two and two. Of course, it takes time to adjust the schedules of a complicated tariff bill, either in behalf of special interests or for the relief of consumers.

The Senate Democrats have had many worries to come up over the sugar tariff. The Democratic House measure put it on the free list, but a caucus of Democratic Senators is to be held today to adjust conflicting views and to attempt to meet the views of those Democrats who object to the free sugar bill passed by the House. Several Democrats have expressed the opinion that the House bill would seriously affect the political situation in Western States where the beet sugar interests are an important factor in industrial development.

It is quite natural to take heed of all interests in framing tariff bills. While the West is concerned in beet sugar, Louisiana would get it in the neck on cane sugar. Meanwhile, it has been developed that free sugar tickles the Sugar Trust like it pleased Jack Rabbit to be thrown into a briar patch. Free sugar, it is said, would mean everything to the Sugar Trust and nothing to consumers. The sugar that is imported is raw and it is the trust which would get the benefit by getting it duty free, especially if refined sugars are kept on the protected list. The trust would absolutely hold the key to the situation, and there would be no power in the land to interfere with its cinch.

This illustrates how, sometimes, free raw material is clearly in the interest of the trusts and is detrimental to the public interests, while the government at the same time is deprived of revenue. The Sugar Trust is on record as favoring free sugar and it is easy to conceive the reason.

As the Democratic party is one for revenue only, it had better stick to that policy and not try the free list too far. Coffee was put on the free list and the government was deprived of the revenue, but the Coffee Trust had the whip hand and put up the price instead of lowering it, as was thought would be the case if the duty were taken off. About the best way to lower prices would be to break up the monopolies and combines by putting the robber monopolists in jail and by taking the duty off their finished products. Free raw material and protected finished products seems to be exactly what they want.

FOUR MONTS' PEACH SEASON.

Georgia is rejoicing over the biggest peach season in the history of the industry in that State. From the Augusta Chronicle we learn that a report to be issued this week by the Fruit Growers' Exchange will show that the Georgia crop this season has required the use of 5,200 refrigerator cars, according to statements of officials of the Armour Line. They had originally contracted to furnish about 4,200 cars, but the number of cars needed proved to be 1,000 greater. The growers are elated and are now counting on a peach season lasting from May till August. The Chronicle thus mentions it:

"Fresh Georgia peaches going North four months during the year is now the dream of peach growers of this State. The early peach, the Georgia Belle, begins to ripen in May, and June, followed by the Elberta in July and up to the first of August. The latest peach is known as Butler's Favorite, and has been successfully experimented with in Jasper county, in and near Hillsboro. The Central of Georgia Railroad has been requested to furnish about 15 to 20 refrigerator cars during August to handle that variety of peach for Northern markets. A number of peach growers have grown the new peach, and they declare it is a success and will be boosted in the peach districts of Georgia, so that the fruit may be shipped North throughout the season."

The Georgia growers confidently expect that, with the introduction of the new peach, and the fact that it can be grown successfully and ripen in August, they can engage in shipping peaches throughout the Summer months. As a matter of fact, we have seen fine peaches taken from trees in North Carolina orchards as late as September and October. The only trouble with a late peach crop is that it would have Northern peaches as competitors in the markets. However, what is the matter with canning all the peaches the Southern growers cannot ship?

CURRENT COMMENT.

For the benefit of those who persist in spelling it "Sea Girt" we will state that there is no split in Seagirt.—Washington Post.

The Republican Progressive who can put principle above party will find no trouble in making up his mind to vote for Governor Wilson.—Durham Herald.

We regard it a gross violation of the proprieties and amenities of the Presidential campaign for a newspaper to call the leader of the third party the Hon. Bully Moosevelt. This is the limit of levity and disrespect.—New Orleans States.

Senator Lee S. Overman, saying that Wilson will carry North Carolina by a great majority drives the truth home when he declares of Roosevelt's candidacy: "Our people will not support a man whose tongue lashes the trusts one day and holds out his hands for campaign contributions from them the next."—Wilmington Star.

A State warehouse bill like that which the South Carolina Supreme Court recently declared unconstitutional is now pending before the Georgia Legislature. Perhaps we must have these bills enacted as a matter of politics and killed as a matter of organic law and public policy in every cotton State.—Charlotte Observer.

The providing of a 20-foot channel in the Ashley river so that vessels of deep draft may hereafter discharge their cargoes at the docks of the fertilizer plants without going through the expensive preliminary process of lightening at wharves on the Cooper river is one of the most important improvements undertaken here by the government in many years. The greater part of Charleston's imports consist of fertilizer material, and of the 13 plants now in operation ten are situated on the banks of the Ashley river within six miles of the city. Thousands of dollars each year will be saved to these plants when the new channel has been completed. To Congressman Geo. S. Legare, who secured the appropriation for this improvement, and to Major George P. Howell, United States Engineer, whose active interest in the matter contributed much towards making the effort a success, full credit should be given for accomplishing something which means a great deal to this city.—Charleston News and Courier.

SHOULD SUPPORT JUDGE CARTER

The good citizens of Wilmington and of New Hanover county should give their support to the Superior Court now in session for many and important reasons. One reason should be to show Judge Carter that we are with him in his clear, courageous and convincing charge to the grand jury. This charge was the best ever given in Wilmington in the judgment of careful hearers. It was well that some of our supporters of law and order were there. But more should show by their presence that law can be and must be enforced. The showing by his honor of the conditions of crime, open flagrant and unpunish-ed hitherto, should stir us all to see that this will no longer be tolerated. It it be true, as stated, that a majority of our citizens are opposed to the present laws it by no means follows that these laws cannot be enforced. A minority in the right is a majority in strength against a majority in the wrong. To be right gives moral courage. To be wrong makes cowards. More depends upon the presence and sympathy of those who are right than many think. It is known abroad in the State that the conditions are difficult here and his honor more than intimated that he was here because good citizens in other parts of the State are ready to help us. There is much that might be told that is well-known. For one thing, we have some of our girls employed in offices downtown and men watch them and try to get their attention and invite them to ride in automobiles near by. One girl known to writer was induced to take such a ride and almost ruined. She is one of our best girls employed in proper work and in a prominent place. It is not easy to refrain from scathing denunciation of brutes who can be guilty of such conduct and owners who will hire their vehicles for such use. We must move and move now, for unless we secure results through our present grand jury and session of the court, the wicked will grow worse and evil bad enough now will increase. Our girls must be protected and our boys saved or we are undone.

THE GOOD GOVERNMENT LEAGUE.

FALLS IN HIS OWN MONOPLANE.

Edson F. Gallaudet Drops 100 Feet; Seriously Injured.

Hempstead, N. Y., July 24.—Edson F. Gallaudet, a wealthy amateur aviator, well known in New York and Washington, flying on the aviation field at Hempstead Plains today, fell with his machine from a height of about 100 feet and was seriously injured. Gallaudet was flying in his original type monoplane, which is equipped with 100 horse power motors.

Mr. Gallaudet, who is well known in banking and social circles, had been successfully flying about the field and rose to make another flight. When about 100 feet in the air he made an acute right turn and his monoplane, evidently lacking sufficient momentum, dropped like a plummet, burying its nose in the ground and wrecking the machine.

Mr. Gallaudet was picked from the wreckage and placed in an automobile and driven full speed to the Nassau hospital at Mineola. He was still unconscious when the hospital was reached. It was found that he had received a severe scalp wound, a deep cut on the chin and left eye and his right leg was so badly cut that an artery was severed.

The Governor's cottage was the mecca of hundreds of visitors today, most of whom did not know of his absence and came to shake hands.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the New Drug.

An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new drug, othine—double strength, which is so uniformly successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any first-class druggist in the city of Wilmington under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot injure the most tender skin

Be sure to ask any first-class druggist in the city of Wilmington for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

NEWBERN AND CHAPEL HILL.

Showed Up Best in Tournament Concluded in Fayetteville.

Fayetteville, N. C., July 25.—Goldsboro and Sumter, S. C., tied for first place in the horse hose wagon races, the feature event of the Inter-State Firemen's Tournament, which closed here today. The time was 33 seconds flat. Kinston took third money. Eighteen teams were entered.

The Newbern and Chapel Hill teams showed up best in the entire tournament. Chapel Hill duplicated its victory of yesterday by winning the Inter-State hand reel race, in 24 2-5 seconds this morning, and ran second in the shorter grab reel race, in which Spencer and the Southside team of Salisbury tied for first place, both making the fast time of 17 2-5. Chapel Hill's time in this event was 18 2-5, East Spencer and Salisbury No. 1, were the other money winners in the grab reel.

Detroit, Mich., July 25.—J. G. Herbert, of Ottawa, a traveling Canadian immigration officer, was shot and killed this afternoon on a crowded Windsor-Detroit ferry by William Ferguson, an "undesirable" who had just been refused admittance into Canada. Ferguson is now under arrest at police headquarters.

Motherhood

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood, in the clasping of her child within her arms. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shrinks from the suffering incident to its consummation. But for nature's ills and discomforts nature provides remedies, and in Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is an emulsion for external application, composed of ingredients which act with beneficial and soothing effect on those portions of the system involved. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis, and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after baby comes. Mother's Friend is for sale at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

FOY MURDER CASE TAKEN UP

Evidence All In and Arguments Will Be Made Today—Holly Case May Be Removed to Another County

After having been in session since 9 o'clock yesterday morning, with recesses for dinner and supper, the lengthiest daily session in many months, Superior Court last night at 9:30 o'clock took a recess until 9:30 this morning, when the arguments in the case against Gerhardt Foy, colored, charged with the murder of Willie Gause, another negro, in which the evidence was heard yesterday, will be made. The case will then go to the jury.

It was definitely decided yesterday morning when court convened that the case against J. C. Holly, charged with the murder of his ward, Edward Cromwell, will not be tried at this term of court, and Judge Carter also stated that he will allow Solicitor Shaw to file an affidavit for removal of the case to another county for trial. The affidavit will be filed this morning and a copy of it be given the attorneys for the defendant, so that they may prepare their answer.

It is said that several reasons will be stressed in the affidavit as to why the case should be moved to another county. One will be that the docket at this term is so crowded that it will be impossible for the case to be reached, and that the next criminal term, in September, being for only one week, will also likely be too crowded to admit trial of the Holly case, which would require possibly that much time itself. It will also be pointed out that the case and the evidence submitted at the two former trials, has been so thoroughly published in the newspapers of the county that it would be almost an impossibility to get a jury composed of men who have not already formed an oponion as to the defendant's guilt or innocence. The matter may be argued tomorrow.

Contrary to expectation the case against Philister King, colored, charged with the murder of Abraham Foard, was not taken up yesterday morning. After a conference with King's attorney, L. Clayton Grant, Esq., the solicitor decided to continue it till Monday, and to call the case against Foy.

The following jury was selected and empanelled to hear the evidence in the case: L. Brogden, C. H. Casteen, Ira A. Hines, J. T. Jarrott, H. O. Thomas, W. J. Lacey, J. M. Enos, T. C. Munn, J. W. Robinson, Geo. T. Smith, A. F. Walton, D. F. Barnes.

The defendant was brought into court and formally arraigned on the charge. He entered a plea of not guilty. The solicitor stated in open court that he would not ask for a verdict of murder in the first degree, but for murder in the second degree, or manslaughter. He made the same statement in regard to the case against Fannie Hefner, white, charged with the murder of a white man named Jordan.

The taking of the evidence was then begun, but owing to the absence of witnesses and the many delays incident to the arranging of bonds of the defendants arrested on capiases charging violations of the prohibition law, as told of in another column, the case dragged along very slowly, and early in the afternoon Judge Carter announced that because of the many delays a night session would be held.

The first witnesses for the State were Elizabeth Wooten, Lawson Legand and Alice Sutton, all colored. Their testimony was practically corroborative on the general details. They testified that they were present or near the house where Gause and Foy boarded on March 18th, and that they saw them engaged in an altercation. The men, they said, came out of the back of the house locked in each other's arms and struggled on the porch for a few minutes, when Gause fell or was knocked to the ground. They testified that Fay then jumped on Gause and stamped him several times, and that Gause cried out that he was hurt and felt like he was dying.

Witnesses testified that Gause seemed too badly injured to walk and that he crawled into the next yard. Foy then helped him into the house where they boarded. They stated that Gause remained in the house for a number of days, and was then taken to the hospital, where he died.

Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, was the next witness, testifying as to viewing tme body and the details in regard to Gause's apparent injuries. Dr. Hooper, surgeon in charge at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, was also called, and testified as to the operation performed on Gause. He stated that the man was suffering when brought to the hospital and that an operation was performed in the hope of saving his life. When operated on they found a large mass of congealed or clotted blood in the abdominal cavity, on the right side, forming an obstruction against the intestines. The hospital records were brought into court and submitted as evidence by the State, and the bookkeeper at the hospital was also put on by the State, to corroborate the records.

Alex Davis, the colored undertaker who prepared Gause's body for burial, testified to the dates, condition of body, etc. The record of death certificates from the health department were also submitted and the stenographer who has charge of them testified as to the copy she made, the original having been sent to Raleigh, as required by law. Several other witnesses testified in regard to minor details. The State rested its case about 5:45 and court took a recess until 7:30.

When court reconvened Gerhardt Foy, the defendant, took the stand in his own behalf. He testified that he had gone to the boarding house on the day of the fight and found Gause cursing the woman in the house. He told Gause not to curse and said Gause turned and cursed him. Witness said he further remonstrated with Gause and that later retaliated by throwing a dish or plate at him. Gause then advanced on him and he knocked him down. He said that Gause arose with a rock in his hand and that he knocked him down again. Gause then tried to throw the rock at him from the ground, he said, and he kicked him to prevent him from doing so. Witness did not know whether he kicked Gause in stomach or where. Had not heard of any threats the deceased had made against him.

Hughes Foy, the aged father of the defendant, then took the stand, testifying that Gause had told him that his son had been interferring between him and his girl, and that he was going to get him. Irene Bailey, the negro woman who kept the house at which the deceased and defendant boarded, testified that Gause had been boarding at her house for several years and that he had often complained of severe pains in his stomach and right side. Several other witnesses testified and the defense then closed its case.

It was then agreed between Solicitor Shaw for the State, and Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq., counsel for the defendant, that the arguments in the case be limited to 30 minutes each, and court took a recess until 9:30 o'clock this morning. Deputy Sheriff A. L. Kelly was in charge of the jury.

AT CAMP WILSON.

An Ideal Sunday—Many Matters and Other Notes of Interest.

(Delayed in Transmission.)

Camp Wilson, Southport, N. C., July 22.—General Order No. 5: Officer of the day, Lieut. Chas. C. Davis; Corporal of the guard, Sergt. Walton; privates, K. Davis, G. Borneman; by order, Col. Taylor.

Sunday was a fine day for all of the boys. Fifteen more men came down on the steamer and now the camp is full blast. Col. Taylor is here now and the Blacking Squad slept all night. They are afraid of the Colonel.

Happy Ned is the sleepy headedest boy in camp. Even the hot sun in the middle of the company street does not have any effect on him. Happy has quieted down for a while now, but look out, boys, his time is coming.

Robert Snakenburg is the limit. He has a pretty little girl down here, but as she lives quite a little distance from camp, he has to have another boy go home with them and keep him company. Snake is all right, but all the boys are ashamed of him. He says he is going to go home with her all by himself tonight.

Luke Davis is having a fine time, even though his shoulders do look red and sunburned. Old Luke is having a fine time, but he swears that there are no girls down here that suit him. He and Lieut. Register have not been caught by the snares of Cupid as yet, but look out when he does get hold of them.

Miller's ice cream parlor is the most attractive place down here. It is hard to tell whether it is the ice cream he is selling or the pretty little waitress who is dishing out the ice cream. John Fergus seems to have the best hand in there. He drinks every time any of the other boys do, and unless he has his check book with him, and he keeps up the pace he has started he will run shy on change and have to soak something to get back home on. John really has it bad. John McAllister is trying to get in, too, but there is nothing doing for you, Old Mac.

Kelly Jewel appeared Saturday with a shining face and a $11.50 fishing tackle. Kelly went out this morning. He caught one trout and then began feeding the fishes with all his might. Kelly says that outside fishing was not made for him, but he expects to fish off of the dock here. Kelly has a girl. They say he is casting sheep's eyes at Fat Nancy. Go ahead, Kelly, old girl, we can't stop you.

Fleet Williams is also on the job. He is quite popular with the fair ones. He had four at one time last night. Miller's place is getting all of our money, if camp kept a month he would be able to close up business and retire.

Capt. Branch is now on the job, both in the military line and the ladies. Capt. Branch is the best looking boy in camp, and the ladies have all gone daffy on him. He is bashful a little, but he gets there just the same.

George Borneman is still on the job. He was seen last night about 2 G. M. mixing a plaster for some poor fellow. He said that the boy was dying and if he did not get it to him quick there would be a funeral in camp. He had a towel on which was placed a layer of tomato catsup, mustard, salt, syrup, sugar, pepper and talcum powder. This was enough to cure anything, or kill it. The object was Pretty Applewhite. Borneman is given up to be the nervlest man in camp. He was placed on guard duty, and had the nerve to go down to meet the steamer with a young lady, and our poor little captain had to lug up a 50-pound pail of lard. Well Brother George will pay for it. He has another day extra duty and will not be allowed to leave camp for 48 hours. We know there will be a gnawing and gnashing of teeth by those fair damsels, but George must be on the job when his time comes.

There will be a baseball game with Southport today. Both teams are in good shape and there will be some fine sport in this line. Look out, Southport, those Brigade Boys with Happy Ned in the box will give you a tough time.

Yesterday Another "Swinger."

Yesterday was another extremely warm day and perspiring weather authorities on the street were wondering if the record of Monday was not being broken. The official record of the Weather Bureau for the 24 hours ended at 8 o'clock last night showed that the maximum for the day was 91 degrees, or three degrees less than on Monday. The minimum for the 24 hours preceding was 78, while the mean was 84 degrees. For the 24 hours ended at 8 o'clock yesterday morning some readings in the Wilmington district were as follows: Wilmington 87; Charlotte 90; Cheraw 92; Florence 94; Goldsboro and Greensboro 91; Lumberton 93; Newbern 88; Raleigh 90; and Weldon 88.

Taken to South Carolina.

Sylvester Gayman, colored, who was arrested here last Sunday morning on information that he was wanted in Summertown, S. C., on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, was taken back to that place yesterday afternoon on the 3:15 train by a deputy sheriff from Summertown. Gayman is alleged to have shot at a number of people, wounding several of them.

MR. IRL T. SELL INJURED

His Motorcycle Collided With a Buggy Yesterday Afternoon

Speeding along at a rapid rate, citybound from a trip down the Masonboro road on his motorcycle, Mr. Irl T. Sell, assistant foreman of The Evening Dispatch, in attempting to pass a buggy ran into the rear of the vehicle at Winter Park Gardens last evening about 7 o'clock and was thrown violently into a ditch on the side of the road, receiving painful bruises about the head and a severe shaking up. His injuries, many friends will be glad to learn, are not considered serious and he hopes to be out again in a few days.

The buggy belonged to Mr. Martin Daniels, it is said, and was being driven on one side of the road, close to a ditch. It was in an effort to pass between the vehicle and the ditch that the accident occurred. The motorcycle was damaged considerably and a few spokes were broken out of a rear wheel of the buggy. Mr. Henry P. Langston, of the Queen City Cycle Co., was out with Mr. Sell and was riding only a short distance behind him.

Mr. Sell declined offers of several automobilists to bring him to the city, and was brought on to Wilmington on Mr. Langston's motorcycle. He was taken to the home of his father, Rev. E. C. Sell, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, where he was attended by Dr. D. W. Bulluck, who pronounced him not seriously injured. He will probably be very sore today and may not be able to go out for a day or two, but no serious consequences are expected. Mr. Sell, who was formerly assistant foreman of The Star, has many friends who will be glad to learn that he was not seriously hurt.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Woman Sent to the County Farm—Fined for "Totin" Razor.

Amelia Jewett, colored, was the unlucky defendant in the Recorder's court yesterday morning, being sentenced to three months on the county farm for an indecent exposure of her person. Amelia is not altogether unknown in the circles of the police court and she will be no stranger on the farm, either. Substitute Recorder Harriss presided.

Oscar Edwards, a white man, was tried on a charge of an assault with a deadly weapon upon Policeman L. J. Weeks, and judgment was suspended. It was alleged that Edwards pointed a shotgun at the officer and forbade him entering his house when he went to investigate a disturbance caused by an altercation between Edwards and members of his family. Edwards told the court that he did not know that Mr. Weeks was an officer, as he was in plain clothes, and that he ordered him not to come in the house. He pointed out that he submitted peaceably when Patrolman J. J. Moore came after him in uniform.

Calvin Williams, colored, was convicted of carrying a deadly weapon, cr "totin" a razor, and was fined $25 and costs. A case charging J. D. Brown, colored, with violating the driving ordinances, was dismissed. John Redd, white, was fined $5 and costs for violating the driving ordinance, and Theo. Waddell, colored, charged with a similar offense, fared likewise.

Drunks were again conspicuous by their absence, as they have been ever since Superior Court convened Monday.

MISS EUNICE CURRIE DEAD.

Prominent Young Woman Passed Away Yesterday at Southport.

Many friends in Wilmington and elsewhere will learn with infinite sorrow of the death of Miss Eunice Currie, the only child of Mrs. Flora Currie, which occurred at Southport at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, following an illness of only a few days. Mrs. Currie and daughter, who have lived at Carolina Heights the past year, went to Southport about 10 days ago to spend the remainder of the Summer. A few days ago she became seriously ill and friends in Wilmington were alarmed over her condition. Daily tidings were received from her bedside and none gave any encouragement, but indicated that she was gradually sinking.

Mr. James F. Woolvin went to Southport last evening on the steamer Ella to bring the body to this city, arriving shortly before midnight, accompanied by the grief-stricken mother and a number of friends.

Miss Currie was born and reared in Wilmington, but for the past few years until about a year ago much of her time as well as that of her mother was spent in traveling in this country and in Europe. She was a consistent member of the First Presbyterian church, of this city.

The body was taken last night to the Currie home at Carolina Heights. The funeral will be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon from the First Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. Dr. John M. Wells, the pastor. The interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

MRS. MARY ELLEN M'COY DEAD

Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon After Illness of Some Time

Mrs. Mary Ellen McCoy, widow of the late Mr. L. C. McCoy, passed away at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of her son, Mr. F. M. McCoy, No. 518 Red Cross street, after an illness of some time. She was 60 years old and is survived by three sons, these being Mr. C. F. McCoy, Cameron, S. C.; Mr. C. L. McCoy, Laurinburg, and Mr. F. M. McCoy, of Wilmington, all of whom will have the tenderest sympathy of a great many friends in their sorrow. Mrs. McCoy was a devout member of the Catholic church at Farmers' Tournout, Brunswick county.

The body will be taken on the early Seaboard train this morning to Northwest, N. C., where the funeral will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon, conducted by Rev. Father Hayden, of this city. The interment will be in the family burying ground.

Seniors Defeat Clams.

Fillyaw, aided by the heavy hitting of his teammates, succeeded in scoring another victory for the Seniors in the indoor baseball league series at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last night, that team defeating the Clams by the score of 8 to 6. The Clams scored four of their runs in a cluster, but thereafter Fillyaw was invincible and from the sixth inning on held his opponents well in hand. This game gives the Seniors a substantial lead in the league race.

HOME FOR VACATION.

Wilmington Boy Who Helped to Raise Battleship Maine.

The Star was delighted to have a call yesterday from Mr. W. H. Banck, junior engineer, who since December, 1910, has been engaged with other engineers in raising the wreck of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor. The work now having been completed he is on a furlough and is spending his vacation with his mother, Mrs. Otto Banck, of this city. Mr. Banck expects to be here until about August 15th, but does not know to what point he will be ordered from here. He is a graduate of the North Carolina A. & M. College, Class of 1909, and the important work to which he was assigned is proof positive of the thoroughness of his training and his ability as an engineer. He talks most interestingly of the work of raising the Maine, the news of which filled the daily papers some months ago. The undertaking cost Uncle Sam upwards of a million dollars and some of the best engineers in the service were detailed to the work. A North Carolinian, Maj. H. B. Ferguson, of Waynesville, was in charge of the gigantic undertaking. Mr. Banck enjoyed the distinction of being the only North Carolinian in the Civilian Corps. He has been most cordially received by his Wilmington friends.

Funeral of Miss Maria Love

The funeral of Miss Maria Love, whose death occurred Wednesday morning at the Catherine Kennedy Home, was held yesterday morning from the home, conducted by Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. There were a large number of beautiful floral tributes. The interment was in Oakdale cemetery. The pallbearers were as follows: Honorary, H. G. Smallbones, Clayton Giles, Dr. R. B. Slocum; active, J. C. Springer, Jesse Wilder, H. McL. Green, J. A. Munn, R. C. Sloan and Jas. F. Post.

Instructive Lecture.

Dr. Chas. W. Stiles, of the United States Marine Hospital Service, the discoverer of hookworm disease, last night gave a lecture, illustrated with stereopticon views, of certain Southern medical conditions. The lecture was given at Camp Rupert Blue, on the hospital reservation, and was especially to the clergymen of Wilmington, to whom special invitations had been sent. The lecture was heard with the greatest interest and profit by all in attendance.

EXILE OF OLD MAIDS.

Christian Church Minister Draws Fire of Miss Gould, of N. Y.

Grand Junction, Colo., July 25.—When the Rev. Elmer V. Huffner, just resigned as pastor of the First Christian Church, delivered a sermon recently advocating the exile of old maids to a barren island as waste humanity, he anticipated local resentment, possibly, but hardly expected to find himself at issue with Miss Gould, of New York. In her letter Miss Gould takes issues with opinions voiced by Rev. Huffner. Miss Gould's letter follows:

"Glancing over a Denver paper, I notice an item concerning your sermon on 'Love, Courtship and Marriage,' one part of which I especially notice, saying that old bachelors and bachelor maids should be isolated on an island so they could not hinder the progress of civilization. I do not know why you made this statement, but I feel that it is a great injustice to the bachelor maids of our country. There are, I admit, many man-haters in the world, but a great many bachelor maids are not living alone because they so choose, but because they have been unable to find a suitable companion.

"I must admit that I am speaking from the standpoint of the bachelor maid. I feel that such persons as myself are not hindering the progress of civilization, but advancing it. If I had found a suitable helpmate, I might have spent my money in a different way, and for a reason which might not have done as much good as it has.

"Please think this question over and before preaching on this subject again, make up your mind that there is some good in living a single life."

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., July 25.—Over 3,000 delegates have thus far been notified by the secretary of the North Carolina Good Roads Association of their appointment to the annual convention of the North Carolina Good Roads Association. This, however, does not include all the delegates appointed for many cities and counties have appointed delegates without notifying the secretary of the association, so that it has not been possible to send special notices to them from the secretary's office. Everything points to the biggest and most enthusiastic convention ever held in North Carolina or even in the South.

Everyone who is interested in good roads or wishes to know more about good roads, and especially those who are opposed to good roads are cordially invited to attend the convention and take part in the discussion of the various subjects relating to good roads, which will be taken up. It makes no difference whether you have been appointed a delegate or not, you will be cordially welcomed at the meetings.

THE ALLEN CASE.

Commonwealth Offers Testimony in Rebuttal—Argument Begins.

Wytheville, Va., July 25.—Seven witnesses in rebuttal were put on the stand by the commonwealth this morning at the trial of Claude Allen in an effort to disprove the contention of the defense that Clerk Dexter Goad, of Carroll county, was in any way responsible for the Hillsville tragedy. John F. Moore denied that he had ever taken a message from the clerk to Floyd Allen with regard to the clan leader supporting Goad politically in return for the clerk selecting a jury that would find Allen not guilty of the charge then pending against him in Carroll circut court. Four other witnesses contradicted the statements of S. T. Rhodes, a witness for the defense who told of an alleged conversation with Goad relative to the tragedy and the time at which Goad drew his revolver. The one remaining witness for the defense was unable to reach Wytheville until late this afternoon and court recessed at noon until 8 o'clock tonight. After the examination of this witness Commonwealth's attorney Floyd S. Landreth, of Carroll county, opened the argument for the prosecution.

In an effort to get the case into the hands of the jury by Saturday at noon, night sessions are being held and court is convening half an hour earlier in the morning than has been customary.

NEW YORK HEADQUARTERS

Democratic Campaign Committee Delays Meeting—Appointees

New York, July 25.—The meeting of the National Democratic Campaign Committee scheduled for today was put over until Monday owing largely to inability of some members to get here and delay in obtaining suitable headquarters. It was at first planned to choose the Wilson building in Herald Square, principally on account of its name, but it was said on behalf of the committee tonight that sentiment would have to yield to practicability in the matter and another building probably will be selected.

It was stated that the committee at its meeting Monday probably will take up the matter of appointing a vice chairman and a treasurer and advisory, finance, and other committees. Henry Moren Morganthau, of New York, was mentioned today as a likely appointee for the treasureship, and the belief prevailed in some quarters that William G. McAdoo would be the vice chairman.

Vancouber, B. C., July 25.—Two men, apparently foreigners, entered the Northern Corn Bank, at Central Park, a suburb, today, felled the manager and office boy with a "jimmy" and escaped with all the money in sight, amounting to $1,500.

REV. GRIFFITH JOHN.

Missionary of London Society in China Passes Away.

London, July 26.—The Rev. Griffith John, missionary of the London Missionary Society, at Hankow, China, died today in London.

Dr. John, who was born at Swansea, Wales, in 1831, was already at the age of 14, well known as a preacher in Welch. He started missionary work as long ago as 1855, when he left England for Shanghai. He was the first Christian missionary to reach Central China and also was the pioneer in a number of outlying Chinese provinces.

Altogether, he passed over 55 years in China. He was twice married, his second wife being the widow of the Rev. Dr. Jenkins, of the Methodist Episcopal church in America.

CAROLINA REPUBLICANS.

Call Soon to be Issued for Convention at Greensboro, N. C.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 25.—It is learned here on undoubted authority tonight that a call will be issued at once for Republican State Executive Committee to meet in Greensboro August 7th, to call a second State convention for the nomination of a State ticket and any other business that may develop. This means that the convention can't be held before September 7th and may be called for a date even later than that; also that there will be a very short campaign in this State. It is understood that this late calling of the convention is to prevent possible capturing of the convention machinery by the Roosevelt "Bull Moose" forces.

MARYLAND PROGRESSIVES

Denounce Both Parties and Send Delegates to Chicago

Baltimore, July 25.—The Maryland Progressive Republicans assembled here in mass convention today and selected 16 delegates with half a vote each and a like number of alternates, to the National Progressive convention at Chicago, August 5th. Resolutions were adopted empowering a committee of seven to select eight Presidential electors independent of those named on the regular Taft ticket and declaring that no elector now on the Taft ticket shall be placed on the Progressive unless he first resigns.

The significance of this latter clause lies in the fact that six of the existing electors on the Republican ticket are Roosevelt men.

The opposition to the proposal for independent electors came mainly from Western Maryland delegates, the Republican stronghold of the State who, contended that to cut loose entirely from the Republican party would weaken the chances for success of their local candidates. They were out voted, however, by the out-and-out third party men who were in the majority.

Besides providing for the naming of independent electors the resolutions adopted denounced the action of the Republican National Committee for its decision in cases of contesting delegations, vigorously attacked both of the old parties on the ground that they are "boss ridden" and cannot give relief to the people, and declared that the majority of Republicans in the State, knowing that the laws of Maryland will not permit Theodore Roosevelt's name to be placed upon the ballot under a party designation containing the word Republican, they are, nevertheless, willing to support him as their candidate for the Presidency without regard to the party name under which he may run. Delegates to the Chicago convention are instructed to vote in National convention on every ballot for Theodore Roosevelt for President.

THE EMPEROR'S CONDITION.

Noon Bulletin Indicates He is Now Suffering From Exhaustion.

Tokio, July 26.—The noon bulletin indicated that the Emperor is now suffering from exhaustion. It read:

"Temperature 97.7; pulse 110; strong, irregular; respiration 32, irregular. His Majesty is extremely and increasingly tired."

The similarity of the bulletins posted throughout the past 24 hours is regarded as ominous. The nature of the Emperor's malady precludes his taking much nourishment and as a result he has grown weaker day by day.

FINGER PRINT EVIDENCE.

Conviction of Theft of Egyptian Curio in Chicago Yesterday.

Chicago, July 25.—Finger print evidence, the latest addition to the official thief catcher experiment, was the basis of a verdict of guilty returned today by a jury against John C. Hartzell, accused of stealing from the museum of the University of Chicago a golden amulet owned by a Pharaoh 5,300 years ago.

The shadowy past was linked to the present by university professors who testified to the antiquity of the golden ornament. Hartzell presented an alibi and in addition his attorney ridiculed the conclusions of the Egyptologists that the amulet which was stolen belonged to King Menes, of Egypt, and that it was 5,300 years old. He also attacked the finger print system and declared that the liberty of a human was too sacred to be trifled with on a system of that kind.

HIGH TRESTLE BURNED.

Tall Wooden Structure near Anderson, S. C., Destroyed.

Anderson, S. C., July 25.—Fire today totally destroyed the wooden trestle, 600 feet long, on the Blue Ridge Railroad, spanning a creek six miles west of this place. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

Officials state that the fire originated from sparks and live coals dropped by a freight engine. The trestle was 118 feet high and said to be the highest in this State. It will be replaced by a steel structure.

What Makes a Woman?

One hundred and twenty pounds, more or less, of bone and muscle don't make a woman. It's a good foundation. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters gives her. Thousands bless them for overcoming fainting and dizzy spells and for dispelling weakness, nervousness, backache and tired, listless, worn out feeling. "Electric Bitters have done me a world of good," writes Eliza Pool, Depew, Okla., "and I thank you, with all my heart, for making such a good medicine." Only 50c. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Catherine Bowen, an inmate of a house of ill-repute, is said to have taken a teaspoonful of lysol Tuesday night, either through mistake or with suicidal intent. The woman's mouth is said to have been badly burned by the liquid. A physician was hurriedly summoned and the woman is now out of danger, it is said.

—C. M. Soles & Son, of Mount Tabor, were adjudged bankrupt a few days ago upon petition of Wm. E. Springer & Co., J. W. Brooks and M. Rosenmann & Son, all of Wilmington. The liability of the firm is said to be about $5,000, with assets fully covering the amount. It is said that one-third of the amount is owed to Wilmington firms.

—A negro by the name of Hickerson, regarded as a desperate character, is said to have made his escape from the county roads Wednesday afternoon and was recaptured last night at Hilton by Mr. Louis W. Tindall, who first saw the man on the Castle Haynes road a mile or two from the city. It is said that the negro had two and a half years of his term yet to serve. The negro was returned to the convict camp by Mr. Tindall.

—Owing to the fact that Mayor Smith and Councilman B. C. Moore had to attend Superior Court, the proposed conference of Council with regard to the street improvement fund, was not held yesterday morning. The conference may be held today or tomorrow. Councilman P. Q. Moore, in charge of the Department of Streets and Wharves, continues quite ill at his home. It is hoped, however, that he will be able to be out again in a few days.

—While no action has as yet been taken, members of Council appear to be very favorable to the proposition of Mr. Thos. H. Wright to install a concrete drain on 14th street, from Market to Princess, as an experiment with a view of ascertaining whether or not this is the proper solution of the Macomber's ditch nuisance. Mayor Smith and three members of Council visited the ground Wednesday at noon. Mr. Wright agrees to pay one-half of the cost of the drain for the block, about $500.

TO EXCLUDE THE PUBLIC.

Grace Trial in Atlanta Will be Conducted Privately.

Atlanta, Ga., July 25.—Exclusion of the public from the trial, July 29th, of Mrs. Daisy Opie Grace, accused of shooting her husband, Eugene H. Grace, at their home here March 5th, has been practically decided upon, it is stated, owing to the limited seating capacity of the temporary court room in which the trial will be held. It is stated that both Judge L. S. Roan, who will preside, and Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey, favor the admission only of the court officers, attorneys, witnesses and newspaper men. The approach of the trial has revived interest in the case and it is believed should the doors be opened to the general public, the court room would be uncomfortably crowded throughout the trial.

..Theatrical..

Again today—twice, mind you, in one week—the novel picture actor, G. M. Anderson, will be seen in a star film at the Bijou. This delightful amusement palace will head its big and splendid bill today with Essanay's latest triumph in the photoplay line, "A Wife of the Hills," and Actor Anderson, the highest priced moving picture artist, will be seen in the stellar role. The film is one of those that breathes thrills and that is grand in its ruggedness. It tells of a tragedy of the Montana hills that is exciting from the very first turn of the crank on the moving picture machine. It is a story of man's treachery and woman's perfidy up in the rugged hills. It is a heart-gripper and Mr. Anderson will be seen at his best. This film is really one of the greatest of the times and to miss it will be to go shy on something rare.

The Pathe folks, those wonderful foreign creators of photoplays, will also have a star on today's Bijou bill in "A Brave Little Indian." It is indeed a charming tale of the West, with an Indian lad as the star. His devotion to a pale-face man and his wife is not only lovable, but heroic.

There will, of course, be other film stars at the Bijou today, going to make the biggest 5 cent show to be found anywhere, and under the most delightful circumstances, as the Bijou is always cool.

Big Dramatic Offerings.

The Grand Theatre, which is now the most popular place in town as a five cent theatre, will offer today a bill that is especially strong for dramatic work. Cooled by ocean breezes and with music by the orchestra at every performance, the pictures for today will round out a big afternoon or evening's pleasure.

"The Necklace of Crushed Rose Leaves," is an Edison and a dramatic offering of great strength and beauty. The principal is first introduced at an Italian dance. There is a free, hearty good fellow named Tony and all the girls are in love with him. There is one by the name of Zella and around these two are woven a picture that will be found especially deep human heart interest. Through evil Tony learns good and the picture closes at the foot of the altar with a prayer to God for His forgiveness.

"Black Sheep" is a picture of dramatic intensity. This has to do with Jack Moreland. The death of his wife from sheer neglect does not bring him to his senses, but instead he grows worse until his little daughter Clara feels the weight of a drunken, dissipated father. Seventeen years elapse in the picture, Clara has a sweetheart and finally recognizes her father. Reform of the father is at length wrought and all is ended happily.

In addition to these two there is still a third picture and the still small sum of five cents will admit to either afternoon or night performances.

COTTON MARKET LESS ACTIVE

Reacted Sharply After Making New High Records for Day—Closed Steady, Net Unchanged and Higher

New York, July 25.—The cotton market was less active today and rencted sharply after making new high records, but closed steady, net unchanged to four points higher. The opening was steady, at an advance of 5 to 8 points, on better cables than expected, and overnight buying orders. Apprehensions of crop complaints as a result of continued dry hot weather in the southwest and renewed talk of bullish figures encouraged the demand through commission houses, and the early market seemed to be attracting increased outside interest. Realizing, however, became heavy, as prices worked above the best level of yesterday, and after showing a net advance of from 8 to 9 points, the market turned easier. A private condition report which yesterday's rumors had described as bullish, was issued by a local house at midday, indicating a deterioration of only one-half per cent. for the month and this probably inspired increased liquidation and local selling. At any rate, prices broke fully 10 points from the best, but after showing a net loss of 2 or 3 points, steadied on renewing and bull support. Later, the market rallied 5 or 6 points on dispatches from Memphis, claiming that the report of the National Ginners' Association showed a deterioration of 5.8 per cent. in the condition of the crop for the past month, and closed at about the best point reached after the midday break.

There was some further Southern buying during the day, but recent Wall street buyers were said to be selling for profits, and at times there was realizing attributed to some of the older longs. Liverpool attributed the firmness there to covering on apprehensions of a bullish August bureau, and continued trade buying.

MELON IN GENERAL ELECTRIC

Thirty Per Cent Stock Dividend Was Feature of Market Yesterday—Session Dull and Generally Uninteresting Otherwise

New York, July 25.—One of he unique features of today's stock market, which was dull and generally uninteresting, until late in the session, was the fact that the General Electric ordinarily one of the most dormant issues, was, next to United States Steel, the most active security in the list. This unusual prominence was explained before noon, when it became known that the directors of General Electric had declared a stock dividend of 30 per cent.

It had long been believed that a "melon" of some sort was ripening in connection with this stock, which at today's high prices recorded its best quotation since 1905. Other electrical equipment stocks were strong, in sympathy, and on the known improvement in these lines of industry. The usual market leaders, however, were heavy until near the close, when buying of the Hill issues stimulated a demand for other standard shares, including Union Pacific and United States Steel. Undoubtedly news that further price advances had been ordered in certain finished articles of steel and iron was an aid to the industrials as a whole. In the final dealings the market took on an appearance of bullish enthusiasm more pronounced than at any recent period. Traders seemed to be impressed by the belief that the stock dividend in General Electric, which is dominated by the strongest financial interests, implied confidence in future conditions and much covering of shorts resulted, with substantial net gains.

St. Paul was an object of interest, opening with a one-point gain in anticipation of the declaration of the regular dividend in the course of the day. This advantage it soon relinquished, but as speedily recovered on announcement that action had been deferred for a week.

Call money loaned at 3 per cent. and offerings of time loans for long periods were relatively light. Bonds were duller than usual, with total sales, par value, of $1,464,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales, 309,700 shares.

ASHEVILLE EAGLES

Preparing to Build Home—Assistant Pastor—To Charlotte

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., July 25.—The Asheville aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles held a meeting last night in the rooms on South Main street at which it was finally decided to expend the sum of $25,000 for a home for the local aerie. This matter has been under consideration for some time, and it has been generally understood that the members would take such action which was decided on last night. There is a committee in charge of the proposition and a lot will be bought and a building erected or a building will be purchased. A supper and smoker followed the business meeting last night. The local aerie is one of the strongest orders in point of membership in the city.

It is announced that Prof. Chester F. Harris, evangelist singer of wide reputation, whose home is at West Milton, Ohio, has been secured as assistant pastor of the First Baptist church, and will enter upon his duties about September 1st. Prof. Harris will have charge of the music of the church besides doing the general work of an assistant and he will direct the work of the three missions of the church. The members of the church feel fortunate that they have been able to secure the services of Prof. Harris, who has sung with some of the most noted singers in the country.

It has been arranged by a number of members of the Asheville Motor Club to make a motor run to Charlotte to attend the annual meeting of the North Carolina Good Roads Association at that city August 1st and 2nd. The run will be made by way of Spartanburg and in all probability they will be joined there by a number of Spartanburg automobilists. There will likely be a good attendance from Asheville. Besides the members of the motor club, delegates have been named on the Good Roads Association of Asheville and Buncombe county by President Chambers.

Norfolk, Va., July 25.—The July meeting of the North Carolina Pine Association composed of representatives of lumber industries throughout Eastern Virginia, Maryland, North and South Carolina, was held today at Ocean View.

Reports showed the lumber market steady with increased demand. Outputs were shown to be on the increase with larger stocks on hand in many cases, but it was announced that there was no indication of increased prices at this time.

duction in rates. Senator Penrose said that he had had the substitute bill prepared in June but he did not believe there was any chance of its passage in the Senate and so he had not made it public before.

On the first test vote that came after the LaFollette amendment had been laid before the Senate the Democrats and Progressives defeated Senator Lodge's amendment for a tariff commission by a vote of 35 to 31.

Senator McCumber then offered an amendment for the repeal of the Canadian reciprocity law.

Washington, July 25.—The compromise wool tariff revision bill introduced by Senator Penrose passed the Senate tonight by a vote of 34 to 32. It was adopted as a substitute for the Democratic bill prepared by the House of Representatives.

Washington, July 25.—The Cummins substitute wool tariff bill, which represented the views of many of the progressive Senators, was defeated by an overwhelming majority when it came to a vote in the Senate early tonight. Practically all the progressives voted for it. The measure was defeated 57 to 14.

All Democrats and most of the Republicans voted against the Cummins bill. The defeat of this substitute had been anticipated and the knowledge that a compromise measure had been prepared by the Republican leaders to be offered as soon as the Cummins bill was disposed of, aided in preventing the so-called regular Republicans from supporting the Cummins bill.

Senator Penrose, acting on behalf of the Republican members of the Finance Committee, offered the Republican substitute as soon as the Cummins amendment had been voted down. It was the bill that had been prepared by Senator Lippitt, of Rhode Island, and which had been circulated early in the day among the Republican members, both regular and progressive.

The Lippitt-Penrose bill was received in the spirit of a surprise by the Democratic side of the chamber, although the Democratic leaders were fully aware that it would be presented as a counter move to their bill for a sweeping reduction of the woolen tariff. Demands were made from the Democratic side for more time to examine the measure and the Republican members of the Finance committee were criticised for submitting a measure that the Senate did not have time to study.

Senator Penrose made a formal statement as to the effects the new bill would have if adopted. He said it would make many important reductions in the present tariff rates on wool and woolen products. On blankets he said the reduction would be from 12 per cent. to 24 per cent. on the higher grades, and almost 50 per cent. on the cheaper grades, which are valued at from 30 to 40 cents a pound. The tariff on yarns, said Mr. Penrose, would be cut from 8 per cent. to 45 per cent. The actual reduction depending upon the varying conditions in the market. In the same way the duties on wool tops would be reduced from 35 per cent. to 50 per cent.

"In spite of these very considerable reductions," said Senator Penrose, "it is believed it will still afford adequate protection to the two great industries, wool growing and wool manufacturing, and that if it should be enacted into law it would enable the farmers and the manufacturer and wage earner engaged in this industry to continue to derive their livelihood from those pursuits and at the same time would meet the demands on the part of the consumers for a revision of the woolen schedule. This bill is an attempt to make the duties on wool and woolen goods conform as nearly as possible to the information on that subject which has been furnished in the recent report of the tariff board."

He further explained that the reductions in the bill ran from 10 per cent. on some of the higher price woolen goods to as much as 125 per cent. on the lower and cheaper grades.

Senator Penrose also said that while the Republicans had at first believed it impossible to get together on a bill that could be passed they had finally agreed, after numerous conferences, that the new measure might unite all Republicans in its support and thus make possible an immediate reduction of the woolen tariff if the House and the President would accept it.

The appearance of the Republican measure came after nearly seven hours of desultory debate on the woolen schedule. The Democratic bill passed by the House, which cut raw wool to a duty of 20 per cent. ad valorem and made sweeping reductions in all woolen tariff rates, was supported by Senators Simmons and Stone, but the principal debate came upon the substitute measure offered by Mr. Cummins. He declared that his bill followed closely the recommendations of the tariff board in its report. He said the Democratic bill made an average reduction of about 35 per cent. on the entire woolen schedule of the existing law, that he believed his measure was on the average about 10 per cent. higher than the Democratic bill. Senator Stone assailed Mr. Cummins for "deserting" the attitude he had formerly taken in favor of ad valorem woolen rates. In his new bill Senator Stone said Mr. Cummins adhered to the plan of specific duty, a system which the Democrats believed afforded opportunities for under-valuations and evasions of the tariff.

DUNCAN WINS.

First Federal Appointment in North Carolina Since Hold-Up.

Washington, July 25.—The first nomination for a Federal position in North Carolina since the sensational withdrawal of all North Carolina nominations last February was made by President Taft today when he sent to the Senate the name of Dascar C. Newberry to be collector of customs for the district of Albemarle. While this is a re-appointment, it probably indicates that the President has made up his mind in regard to the North Carolina "pie counter" and other nominations may be expected soon.

It is understood Newberry is a Duncan man and this, if true, bears out the forecast in these dispatches that Duncan is still in control and in all probability will have the President's ear when other nominations are made.

PENNSYLVANIA FLOODS.

Conditions Becoming Normal Last Night—The Death Toll.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 25.—Conditions throughout the flood area are becoming normal tonight. Twenty-four victims of the flood have been accounted for. The deaths of many others are supposed to have taken place in coal mines, now flooded by water, and it will take many days to bring in an accurate fatality list.

From what has been learned tonight, definite details absent more than three score of persons lost their lives in torrential rains of yesterday.

It has been impossible to line up the list of deaths because most places are isolated and have been since Sunday.

While nothing has been heard from the Red Stone valley it is said that quite a number of miners have been drowned. Verification is impossible.

Communication has been established with a number of points in West Virginia. All report a severe storm. Three deaths are reported from Fairmont, two had occurred at Monongah; practically two-thirds of West Virginia is cut off from communication.

In western Pennsylvania it is a case of cleaning up debris. The Pennsylvania Railroad put 800 men to work between Connellsville and Uniontown clearing up the tracks. It will take days to open the line, because tracks and road foundations were swept completely away.

Within a radius of 60 miles in Pennsylvania the storm made telling effect. In addition to flood conditions, the flood water had a tendency to tear up streets, tracks, wreck buildings and carry away practically all the small bridges in the vicinity of the Pittsburg district.

Tonight at Uniontown foreign women, wives of victims drowned yesterday, have threatened vengeance upon the mine bosses for their failure to notify their husbands of the approaching danger.

Mrs. Frank Layoff, whose husband was drowned in the mine yesterday, has gone insane and threatens to commit suicide. An employe of the coal company has been put in charge of her.

In the Monongahela valley all streams are rising. Many persons have been driven from their homes, and much damage has resulted.

At Brownsville, Pa., five miners were unaccounted for today. Reports early in the day had been to the effect that 28 were lost. The Monongahela river rose rapidly here today and tonight reached the flood stage of 39.45 feet and probably will go higher.

In all sections of western Pennsylvania similar conditions prevail and there is no hope of adjusting affairs for a few days.

TAKE OVER ORGANIZATION.

Six Staunch Republican States in Roosevelt Control.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 25.—Six staunch Republican States have adopted a plan, Col. Roosevelt said tonight, for the bodily capture of the Republican organizations by the National Progressive party. The States he named are Kansas, Minnesota, South Dakota, Idaho, California and Washington. In each of these States, according to Roosevelt leaders who have talked with the ex-President or his aides, the Republican organization is in control of the supporters of the new party to an extent sufficient to enable them to transfer the organization virtually intact to Col. Roosevelt's support. In each case, it is the intention to retain the name Republican, and place candidates for Congress and State offices on the regular Republican ticket.

In States in which the law requires that the names of Taft and Sherman be placed on the ballot as the Republican nominees, the Roosevelt candidates for electors will go in a separate column. Where the law does not exact this, the Roosevelt candidates probably will be placed under the regular Republican emblem, on the theory that Col. Roosevelt is the legitimate nominee of the party.

The Minnesota situation was cleared at a conference which Col Roosevelt had today with Lieutenant Governor Sam Gordon and C. J. Knapp, from that State. The impression was obtained by Mr. Gordon that no independent ticket would be run in Minnesota.

MOTHER'S BLOOD FOR SON

Brave Sacrifice That Availed Nothing In Kentucky State

Lexington, Ky., July 25.—Prolonged sacrifice of blood by his mother failed to save the life of Frank Glover, 17 years old, who succumbed this afternoon to a malady which doctors were unable to correctly diagnose.

The youth was stricken several weeks ago. His affliction took the form of mysterious blood absorption that left him weak. Physicians got this far with their diagnosis—the boy must have new blood. But they were balked until Glover's mother answered their anxious inquiries.

"Frank shall have my blood," she exclaimed. "I am strong, and my blood will make him well again."

So the process of transfusion was begun. Each day Mrs. Glover was strapped on an operating table, close to her son. An artery in one of her arms was slashed, a tube was inserted into the wound, then it was directed into the arm artery of the sick boy.

Strength returned quickly as the new life blood poured into young Glover's veins and it was believed he was recovering. But several days ago a change for the worse occurred. The doctors found that the mysterious malady was absorbing the new blood faster than it could be supplied.

TIGER CAMPAIGN IN WILMIHGTON

be arrested. He had gone to dinner when a deputy sheriff came for him with the capias and brought him into the court room. He gave $500 bond in each of the two cases and was released last evening.

Late yesterday afternoon Fox Riley, one of the newly-indicted defendants, was arrested by a deputy sheriff at Carolina Beach, where he was spending the day. There are two indictments against Riley. He was brought to the city and being unable to raise the $1,000 bond required was sent to jail. Tom Croom was the only other defendant arrested yesterday who failed to give bond. There are also two cases also against him.

Of the 25 nolo contendere defendants arrested Mattie Allen, a woman of the local underworld, was the only one who failed to raise the required bond or who was not recognized for appearance tomorrow morning. The woman went to jail.

Those of the nolo contendere defendants who furnished the $1,000 bond required for their appearance tomorrow were as follows: Clayton Rhodes, Peter Mohr, Albert Steljes, Martin Brunjes, J. E. Taylor, H. T. F. Wrede, W. H. Biddle, J. G. Kulkhen, J. G. L. Gieschen, Geo. Schnibben, J. A. Westbrook, F. W. Ortmann, J. O. Grimes, Julius Sternberger, J. H. Brunjes, E. M. Cheek M. H. Kelly, Theo. Schutte, H. T. Duls, Lola Harriss, Ralph Kennedy.

Upon assurance by the solicitor that he had no evidence of the defendants' having violated their agreement, and the assurance of the defendants themselves that they could not possibly raise the $1,000 bond, Judge Carter ordered the clerk to recognize R. W. Woodcock, C. A. Workheiser and T. F. McAlister in the sum of $1,000 for their appearance tomorrow morning, and to allow N. W. Woodcock's original bond of $200, given at the January term, to stand for his appearance Saturday also. In taking this action Judge Carter explained that he had not required the $1,000 bonds from the others because he had been led to believe that they had not violated their agreement, but that he wanted to insure the presence of every man in court, so that a full investigation could be made if deemed necessary.

The sweeping order of Judge Carter in regard to the nolo contendere cases and the further action of the grand jury in returning additional indictments charging violations of the prohibition law, have created a great deal of interest and the subject was a general topic of conversation on the streets yesterday afternoon and last night. While something of the kind has been expected since Judge Carter's sweeping charge to the grand jury Monday morning, few expected that the developments would be on such a wholesale scale. However, it is now whispered that even more sensations may be expected, as it is rumored around the court room that the grand jury has only begun its work.

The ministers of the city and a large number of influential citizens have inaugurated a movement looking to the abolishment of the social evil in Wilmington and it is known that a number of the ministers and citizens have appeared before the grand jury in regard to the matter. Many declare that they would not be surprised to see indictments returned against owners and operators of automobiles carrying passengers to the houses of ill repute charging them with nuisances or with soliciting.

The grand jury yesterday returned a true bill against James H. Beatty, colored, charging him with burglary, it being alleged that he entered the home of Maggie Moore, colored, on the night of the 19th day of May. Beatty was convicted in the Recorder's court Wednesday of an assault with a deadly weapon upon Mounted Officer R. J. Thompson and was sentenced to the county roads for two years. The negro shot and seriously wounded the officer some weeks ago.

WORK OF A MADMAN.

Body of Fourteen-Year-Old Girl Found Near Carmel, Maine.

Carmel, Me., July 25.—The discovery of the body of 14-year-old Naomi Etta Mitchell in a corn field near the town, her throat cut from ear to ear and much of her clothing torn away brought to light today a murder which authorities believe to be the work of a madman. Tonight search is being made for a farm hand who was seen in the vicinity last night. He was at one time an inmate of the Bangor Insane Asylum. This man has not been at home since last night. The murder apparently was committed early last evening. The child, a daughter of Phinneas Mitchell, a farmer, had been sent to a grocery a mile distant after supper.

She made her purchase and started home. That was the last time she was seen alive.

Searchers today came across the body in a corn field. The girl's hands had been tied behind her back and a gag placed over her mouth. There were many indications of a struggle. Her bundles were found piled up by the roadside, and $14 which she had on her person was untouched.

The man for whom search is being made was in the store when the child made her purchases and followed her down the road.

Public feeling has been aroused to a high pitch and threats of summary vengeance should the man be caught was freely made in the village tonight. Physicians who examined the body declared the girl was the victim of an assault before she was killed.

TOOK HIM AT HIS WORD.

Collector Thompson, of Alabama, Fired by President Taft.

Washington, July 25.—As the result of his refusal to resign at the request of Secretary MacVeagh, Joseph O. Thompson, was removed today as collector of internal revenue for Alabama and Mississippi with headquarters at Birmingham. Mr. MacVeagh dismissed the collector by telegraph on authority of the President.

Mr. Thompson is the leader of the Roosevelt forces in Alabama. He was asked to resign several days ago. His refusal was received today by Secretary MacVeagh, who immediately took up the case with the President and asked for authority to take summary action.

TWO GEORGIA CONVENTIONS.

Progressives Split in Twain in Cracker State.

Atlanta, Ga., July 25.—Two separate and distinct delegations were selected here today by Georgia Progressive Republicans to the National Progressive convention at Chicago August 5th. Both State conventions claimed regularity. Participants in one convention claim that the split came over the negro question. This was denied by participants in the other.

Dr. Horace Grant, permanent chairman of the party, asserts that the split came when he refused the request of H. A. Dewar, Atlanta, and C. C. Coyle, Marietta, to elect two negro delegates to the National convention. The session presided over by Dr. Grant was an open one. It declared itself in favor of a party of white voters. A women's suffrage plank also was adopted. Four delegates and four alternates, including two women, were chosen to represent the State at the National convention.

The convention presided over by H. A DeWar was behind closed doors. DeWar denied that a request had been made to name negro delegates and declared no negroes attended the convention.

By resolution in this convention it was decided to send 14 delegates to the National convention. That number of delegates and alternate was chosen.

ICE CREAM POISONING

Well-Known Business Man Dead and Others Ill In Georgia

Cordele, Ga., July 25.—J. E. Joiner, a well-known business man, died here today and eight other persons are in a serious condition as the result of eating ice cream at the home of Judge J. B. Smith last Sunday.

The eight who still are ill from ptomaine poisoning are: Judge and Mrs. J. B. Smith, Mrs. J. E. Joiner, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Dickson, Misses Irma and Agnes Roberts and Hope Roberts. The condition of the Misses Roberts is critical.

On Sunday Judge and Mrs. Smith entertained several guests at a dinner with an ice cream dessert. Later in the day every one who had partaken of the ice cream became ill.

Washington, July 25.—Among the nominations sent to the Senate today by President Taft were: John M. Chaney, to be United States judge, Southern district of Florida, and Dascar O. Newberry, to be collector of customs, district of Albemarle, North Carolina.
